MINORITY LEADERS FIGHT TARIFF BILL

Republican Senators Wage War on Underwood-Simmons Measnre

ALLEGE "LOBBY" INFLUENCE

Republicans Predict General Financial and Industrial Depression Will Result From Democratic Tariff Changes.

Washington, July 21.—Republican Senators continued to bombard the Underwood-Simmons tariff bill today, Senator Burton, of Ohio, expressing the assurance that it would fail in its purpose to lower the cost of living, and Senator Smoot, of Utah, in an address to be continued tomorrow, branding it as the "most injurious tariff measure ever taken up for consideration by Congress."

"This bill," said Senator Smoot, "is a partisan and sectional measure, the outcome of secret caucus methods such as never ruled before in the Senate of the United States. In his book, 'Our New Freedom', President Wilson says that there is no excuse for caucusing in Congress, and in a speech in Indiana preceding his election he emphasized that point by asserting that there was no necessity for secrecy in Congressional proceedings. Yet not in the history of Congress has there been anything equal to that record in the way of dark methods in the preparation of a tariff bill.

Denunciations of Measure.

"Governor Foss, of Massachusetts, who has been three times elected to his present office by the Democratic party, and who was supported as a candidate for President at the last Democratic National Convention, denounces this bill as a sacrifice of the interests of the nation. He has purchased a site in Canada for his large manufacturing establishment in Massachusetts, and says that he will remove his business there if this bill becomes a law. Mr. William R. Hearst, a prominent Democratic mentioned as candidate for President, agrees with Governor Foss. We all know what Democrats of Louisiana, Colorado, Montana, and other States vitally interested think of this measure. A former Democratic United States Senator from Colorado, has denounced it in vigorous terms. How could he do otherwise when it sacrifices practically every independent industry of that State and also of eevry other Rocky Mountain State, as well as other States, excepting possibly some in the South?

"Manufacturing is developing all over the South, crops are more diversified, and there is every reason to believe that if left alone under the protective tariff, its prosperity will continue to increase with great strides. But this bill will hurt, instead of helping the South, as its originators seem to think will be the case."

Analyzing the bill from end to end, Senator Smoot declared that "of the many monstrous provisions of this tariff law, perhaps the worst is the one designed to annihilate the production of sugar in this country.

"It seems almost incredible that any party should make itself responsible for such a great calamity as putting sugar on the free list to benefit a few refiners on the seacoasts," the Senator continued. "The per capita consumption of sugar is over 81 pounds annually now, and 40 per cent of that enters into the manufacture of confectionery, etc., making a per capita consumption of the remainder of 48 pounds. No one anticipates the slightest reduction in confectionery and such things as a result of the removal of the duty on sugar. On the remaining consumption free sugar would apparently make an annual per capita saving of 64 cents, but when the beet sugar industry is extinguished, the sugar refiners will control the business and the consumer will not benefit as experience has shown."

Dire Results Predicted.

Predicting dire results when the bill becomes a law, and that the first industries of the country to suffer from its passage "would not be the great trusts, and powerful corporations, but the thousands of manufacturers of small capital," Senator Smoot said: "I have been so proud of my country's development, her people, that I never get tired of singing her praises, nor never cease thanking my God that I was born an American. I am interested in maintaining her present standard of living and preventing if possible her working people from coming in direct competition with the unfortunate people of less favored countries. There is only one way to prevent it, and that is by a protective tariff and therefore I have been and I am still protectionate without qualification."

Smoot Arraigns Bill.

Asserting that a foreign "lobby" had influenced the Democrats in the framing of the Underwood-Simmons tariff bill, Senator Smoot, Republican member of the Finance committee, vigorously attacked the measure. He painted a picture of mills shut down, workmen unemployed, investors ruined and an era of general financial and industrial depression as the result of the leveling of tariff walls. European nations, he declared, were not so much to be feared as competitors as were the nations of the Orient.

"There has been a lobby here in behalf of foreign manufacturers" he charged, "such as was never before witnessed in the history of the nation, and they have got even more than they asked for. The Italian Chamber of Commerce of New York asked for certain reductions and the Democrats in nearly every case have given them more than they asked."

JUDGE BENNETT PASSES AWAY

Distinguished Citizen, Soldier, Jurist and Old-time Southern Gentleman, Answers Final Summons at Wadesboro

(Special Star Telegram.)

Wadesboro, N. C., July 21.—Col. Risden Tyler Bennett died at his home here this morning at 6 o'clock, after a brief illness from pneumonia.

He was 73 years of age and was a son of the late Rev. Nevil Bennett, a primitive Baptist minister, of Anson county. He is survived by his wife, who was Miss Kate Sheppard; two brothers, Mr. W. O. Bennett, of Wadesboro, and Mr. John G. Bennett, of Tennessee. There are three daughters, Mrs. Mary A. Little, Mrs. John D. Leak, and Mrs. John T. Bennett, the latter of Rockingham.

Colonel Bennett entered the Confederate service when only 21 years of age and rose through the several ranks to the colonelcy of his company. He was wounded three times and often commended for his bravery.

He was educated at the Anson Institute, Davidson College, and took his B. L. degree at Lebanon, Tenn., being admitted to the bar before he was 21 years of age. He was county solicitor in 1866-67, member of the State Legislature in 1872-74, and delegate to the constitutional convention in 1875, serving on the judiciary committee.

He was appointed judge of Superior Court in 1860, and soon resigned to accept the nomination for Congressman-at-Large, and was elected to the 48th and 49th Congresses. At this time he was one of the State's most prominent citizens and greatest orators. He served in Congress on the judiciary committee, the chairman of which, John Randolph Tucker, of Virginia, said he was the greatest constitutional lawyer of the body. His success at the local bar was brilliant and he distinguished himself, as citizen, scholar, jurist, lawyer and in literature. He was a kind-hearted man of generous impulses, charitable, and a true friend.

The funeral will be conducted from the residence of Mr. John L. Leak tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock by Rev. S. M. Hanff, of the Episcopal church. Confederate veterans will act as honorary pallbearers.

SPECTACULAR CAREER ENDED

Cardeneo F. King, North Carolinian Former Financer and Noted Newspaper Man, Dies a Convict in Massachusetts.

Bridgewater, Mass., July 21.—A spectacular career was ended under pathetic circumstances today when Cardeneo F. King, once widely known as a financier and newspaper publisher of Boston, died a convict at the State Farm here in the very hour that friends, aware of the approach of death, were making desperate enorts to obtain his pardon.

Only a legal technicality prevented his last hours being those of a free man. Word that his condition was hopeless was sent to Governor Foss, at Boston, this morning, and soon after noon Mrs. King and their four sons, who were at the bedside, received the welcome message that the Governor had canvassed the members of his council and had secured their consent to immediate clemency.

King brightened perceptibly at the news. He was not told of the word received shortly after that Attorney General Swift had rendered an opinion that a pardon could not be granted by the telephone. Later, however, a telegram brought assurance that a pardon would be granted tomorrow, when the council had been ordered to convene. Doctor Emerson, medical head of the State Farm, hurried with the news to the hospital, but returned to announce that King was dead.

King was convicted of obtaining $22,000 under false pretenses from persons who had entrusted him with funds for investment, and was sentenced to the penitentiary for fourteen years. In January, 1909, he began his term at Charlestown, but became seriously ill and was removed here. A chronic intestinal trouble still pursued him and last night his condition suddenly became critical.

A native of North Carolina, King began his financial operations in Boston in 1904. In 1907 he began publication of the Boston Daily Tribune, but it was discontinued after several months.

In 1908 King's customers began to complain that stocks for which they had sent him money had not been delivered. Bankruptcy followed. His liabilities were nearly $500,000 and assets less than $14,000. A warrant for King's arrest was issued, but he disappeared.

He was traced finally to Columbia, Ceylon, returned to Boston, and surrendered in July, 1908.

Sentence was pronounced upon him following a dramatic recital in which King declared he was innocent of any wrong intention. He closed by accusing Thomas W. Lawson, the Boston financier of bringing him to financial ruin.

SUPREME COURT BUILDING.

Bids for Remodeling Rejected Because All Were Too High.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., July 21.—Bids were opened today for remodeling the old Supreme Court building at a cost of about $40,000, but it was found that all bids are too high, and effort will be made to get a much lower proposition.

The $40,000 appropriation has to pay for the changes and for furnishings, and for about $5,000 of improvements in the State Treasury. Dr. J. Y. Joyner is chairman of the commission in charge of the remodeling which includes vaults for all four floors and elevator. The Corporation Commission, Department of Insurance Commissioner of Labor and Printing, and Department of Health are to be housed in the building.

HUERTA REGIME IN STATE OF COLLAPSE

WASHINGTON IS INTERESTED

Administration Officials Keenly Apprehensive—President Wilson Impatiently Awaits Arrival of Ambassador Wilson

Washington, July 21.—Reports of contentions surrounding the Huerta government in Mexico have put administration officials in an attitude of keen apprehension toward the situation there. Advices which officials believe to be perfectly trustworthy seem to indicate that the strife between the Huerta regime and the revolutionary elements is nearing a point where some definite conclusion is to be reached.

Information of this situation was permitted to become known today, and was coupled with the authoritative statement that the United States was making no additional naval or military preparations. Reports of impending collapse of the Huerta regime are being talked over freely in official circles, though no official of the administration will permit his name to be coupled with them. All information made public was with the stipulation that it should not be represented as reflecting the views of the administration.

Meanwhile, President Wilson is awaiting the coming of Ambassador Henry Lane Wilson, hurrying north from Mexico City to make a first-hand report of conditions. His reports will be compared with those President Wilson has received from other sources.

Secretary Bryan, who has cancelled some of his lecture dates that he may return to Washington Thursday or Friday, will participate in the conferences.

Ambassador Wilson was at Havana today, and the intimation of the desire to hurry him to Washington was seen in a request by Secretary Bryan to Surgeon General Blue, of the Public Health Service to expedite the ambassador's passage through quarantine at Havana and Key West.

While the first intimation of the administration's apprehensive regard for the latest development came early today, there was no additional information during the day to supplement the semi-official announcement from high quarters that this government consider the situation a very grave one for the Huerta regime and looked forward to the developments of the next two weeks with deepest interest.

Refusal of foreign consular representatives to hold a parley with General Urbina, the Mexican revolutionary leader, before his attack on Durango is given as the reason for the outrages against residents, irrespective of nationality, following the recent rebel occupancy of the city, according to State Department advices received today. General Urbina sent the consuls word of his intention to besiege Durango and sought a conference with them. As a retaliation for their refusal to meet him, it is said, the city virtually was given over to the soldiery and the mob. Prices are now very high and Consul Hamm fears that famine is ahead.

The State Department has been advised that the government at Mexico City has expressed its intention of preventing admission upon the arrival of the new Japanese minister, which might be considered anti-American in character.

Transportation facilities in Mexico continue in a state of demoralization. More than 200 bridges have been destroyed between Monterey and Torreon.

From Guaymas Admiral Cowles, commanding the Pacific squadron, reported today to the Navy Department that the city is quiet, after the arrival of Federal reinforcement. State Department reports say that all communication with interior Mexico was cut off yesterday.

The Revolutionists have taken the principal towns to the west of Tuxpam and early fighting is expected at that place. Consul Canada has reported that the battleship Louisiana probably will go from Vera Cruz to Tuxpam in order to guard American interest when the clash comes. Maurauders are operating around Vera Cruz and two American plantations near that port, have been attacked in a search for arms and provisions.

Two Vera Cruz newspapers have been suspended by order of President Huerta. The wrecking of a bridge on the National Railway near Monterey has interrupted transportation to the North.

So delicate is the Mexican situation considered in official circles that the White House issued the following statement tonight to clear up misrepresentations:

"On his attention being called to the following statements appearing in certain afternoon papers (1) that the President has stated that he would not recognize the Huerta administration, and that it would not last a year (2) that the President had stated that this country would establish a protectorate over all Central American countries to guard the Panama canal, Secretary Tumulty stated that there was absolutely no foundation of truth for either of the above statements and emphatically denied that the President had expressed any opinion today or at any other time regarding the Huerta administration or its stability, or stated any intention as to its recognition."

CURRENCY PLANS UNCHANGED

Administration Plans for the Enactment of Monetary Reform Measure at Present Congress Stand Without Change

Washington, July 21.—There are to be no changes in the administration plans for the enactment of a currency reform measure at the present Congress. This was plainly indicated today by President Wilson and Senator Owen, chairman of the Senate Committee on Banking and Currency, after they had held a long conference at the White House.

The President said he was satisfied with the speed with which the currency bill was being handled at the capitol and declared his confidence in the ultimate passage of the Glass bill with the changes proposed by the House committee. With these changes he said he was in perfect accord.

The most important change recommended would permit National banks to continue to use the two per cent government bonds for circulation. Other amendments are of minor importance, Senator Owen said. The Senator positively stated that objections to the government control of the Federal reserve board would have no weight with the administration and that in this respect the bill would be passed by both Houses in its present form.

Continuing their rather turbulent consideration of the administration bill, the Democrats of the House Banking and Currency committee today agreed upon several tentative changes of importance. This was done at an afternoon session of the committee which Representative Ragsdale, of South Carolina, left summarily declining to take further part in the day's deliberations.

Representative Ragsdale announced his dissatisfaction with the procedure of the committee demands after he had found it impracticable to secure copies of all of the various amendments offered to the bill. He had asked Friday that Chairman Glass furnish him with copies of the various amendments. Today the chairman said many of the amendments were unimportant and that a complete list was not available. After some rather heated controversy Representative Ragsdale left the committee room. He said tonight that he had worked on various features of the bill outside of the committee and that he would attend tomorrow's session prepared to take part in the consideration of the measure.

Chairman Glass tonight gave out the text of a revision of the note issue section of the bill which he said he had made for the committee. This tentative draft would provide that Federal reserve banks must carry in their vaults, as a reserve, gold or gold certificates to the amount of 33 1-3 per cent of the treasury notes over notes issued by the bank. The bill originally called for this reserve in "gold or lawful money."

After some discussion it was agreed to change it in order to prevent the accumulation of greenbacks and silver dollars in the reserve.

The conference today returned to the re-discount section of the bill to re-consider its action of last week, when the maturity term of re-discountable notes was changed from 45 to 60 days. It was agreed to retain the 45-day term, after a proposal by Representative Wingo to extend the term to six months had been rejected.

An amendment to the market operations section of the bill would allow the Federal reserve banks to invest their funds in United States bonds and bonds issued by any State, county or municipality.

SENATORS ASSAIL MULHALL STORY

Truth of Statements Made By Ex-lobbyist Vigorously Denied

LETTERS READ INTO RECORD

Senators Nelson and Clapp Testify Before the Committee—Mulhall Waivers in His Testimony When Questioned

Washington, July 21.—Two Senators, Nelson and Clapp, of Minnesota, tonight took the stand before the committee of their colleagues investigating the "lobby" and denied the truth of statements made by Martin M. Mulhall, former political worker, accelerator of Congressional opinion and all-round field worker for the National Association of Manufacturers.

In letters read into the record today Mulhall told of conversations with Nelson—a member of the lobby committee—in relation to the rejection early in 1909 of a bill amending the anti-trust Sherman act, by a Senate sub-committee of which Mr. Nelson was chairman. Mulhall wrote to F. C. Schwedtman, secretary to James W. VanCleave, president of the association, that he had seen Senator Nelson and that the Senator had told him what transpired in his sub-committee. He swore on direct examination by Senator Cummins that Mr. Nelson had suggested that the association send a copy of the sub-committee's adverse report on the bill to the President (Mr. Roosevelt.) In one letter Mulhall spoke of being introduced to Senator Clapp by Mr. Nelson, and of talking with both men about a recent decision under the Sherman act.

Questioned closely by Senator Cummins, Mulhall first swore he had been told by Mr. Nelson what had occurred in the committee, even to how its members voted on the proposed amendment; pursued further he agreed that possibly he had not received such information, and then switched again and declared that if he had reported that he had received such information it must have been correct.

"I have no recollection of seeing Mr. Mulhall or talking to him about this bill and I certainly would not have talked to him about what transpired before the Judiciary committee," said Senator Nelson tonight. "It is possible that he may have stepped inside my office and gotten them from my clerk. Mr. Hicks, my clerk, who was with me then and with me now, says that he cannot recollect ever having seen Mulhall in our room. So far as the report is concerned, you all know that Mr. Mulhall could get these reports from the document room. I have no recollection of ever meeting Mr. Mulhall or talking to him on these subjects or anything else. Ever since Mr. Mulhall appeared here before the committee, I have been racking my brain to think or recall if I ever saw him or had a talk with him. There is a possibility that I may be mistaken. I understand that Mr. Mulhall had a mustache then, and perhaps that may account for the fact that I do not recognize him now."

"I have not the slightest recollection of ever seeing Mulhall and certainly I have no recollection that Senator Nelson introduced me to him in his room," swore Senator Clapp. "It is very clear in my mind that if I had had I would have recollected it."

The Nelson matter came up when Senator Reed introduced a letter dated January 29th, 1909, from Mulhall to Schwedtman. "I sent in my report, as chairman, to the Senate upon the amendment of the Sherman law," read the letter. "The Senator came out and took me to his room and gave me a complete statement of what took place in the Judiciary committee before they made their adverse report."

Senator Nelson was not in the room at the time, and Senator Cummins declared that he had been requested to ask that all letters bringing in Mr. Nelson's name be read at once. Two others were put in the record, one referring to the same bill, the other to an anti-injunction bill, which did not figure in the later testimony.

Upon examination Mulhall said he became acquainted with Senator Nelson at the time he wrote the first letter.

"I was sent there by Mr. Emery, the chief lobbyist for the association," he said.

"Senator Nelson's report on this bill was made three days before your call; you do not mean to say that you influenced him?" asked Senator Cummins.

"No, sir. Not at all."

Senator Cummins pressed the witness as to the statement that Senator Nelson had given him information about what occurred before the bill was reported adversely. Mulhall was certain that he had got such information, then was "not clear on that," and later showed signs of anger. "You don't expect me to remember complete details of conversations like that which occurred so long ago?" he asked.

Mulhall sat near the left of the witness chair when Senator Nelson made his statement. He listened closely to every word.

Nelson reviewed the history of efforts to amend the Sherman act and said that he always had opposed such a proposal believing it was desired by the great interests and the trusts. He told of President Roosevelt's message urging an amendment to this act, and said that his report had been prepared with an idea of forestalling an administration bill on the subject.

OVERMAN TOO BUSY TO TALK

When Told of Mr. Justice's Card He Said He Had Too Much to Do to Enter Controversy Over Election.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Washington, D. C., July 21.—Senator Overman said he was too busy to enter into a controversy about an election which is over a year off, when his attention was called to the announcement of Mr. Justice that he would oppose the junior Senator for reelection. Mr. Overman said he would be a candidate to succeed himself, but further than this he had noting to say for publication.

Senator Overman is now chairman of the Lobby committee, which is holding sessions every day, and in addition is chairman of the Committee on Rules and acting chairman of the Senate Judiciary committee.

Culberson in Bad Way.

Senator Culberson, of Texas, is chairman of the latter committee, but has been in a very serious condition for some time, and has been unable to be in Washington. Indeed, it is not expected that the senior Senator from Texas will recover. Should this prove true, Mr. Overman, in all probability, will be made chairman of the Judiciary committee.

Want Game Law Amended.

Former Congressman John M. Morehead, of Spray; W. P. Anderson and Thomas Washington, of Wilson, are here trying to have the law relating to "migratory birds" in North Carolina changed so that certain wild game which migarte to the North Carolina coast may be killed during the months the birds remain in the State.

Under the present law wild ducks and other birds which are hunted in North Carolina, cannot be killed during the months which they stay in the State.

Tomorrow Senators Simmons and Overman will accompany the delegation to the Department of Agriculture and ask the solicitor for the department to make a ruling on the law. Should he rule that the birds cannot be killed during the months specified, Messrs. Morehead, Anderson and Washington will endeavor to get the law amended. P. R. A.

ANTI-TRUST LAWS VIOLATED

Half Million Dollar Penalty and Gigantic Stock Transfer Involved in Suit Against Big Oil Corporations

Greenville, Texas, July 21.—Half a million dollars as a penalty, and the transfer of 21,596 of the 24,500 shares of stock in the Magnolia Petroleum Company of this State, from the individual control of H. C. Folger, Jr., and John D. Archbold, to a trustee mutually agreed upon was accepted by the State of Texas today in settlement of the $102,000,000 penalty and ouster suit instituted here recently by the State attorney general against the Magnolia and Coriscana Petroleum companies of Texas; the Standard Oil companies of New Jersey and New York, and 28 individuals.

Judge F. A. Williams, of Austin, was named as trustee for the stock in question. The penalty was paid under telegraphic instructions from the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey. The agreed verdict holds the Magnolia company, the chief Texas interest in the suit, not guilty of anti-trust violations and it is privileged to do business with the proviso that the stock owned by Messrs. Folger and Archbold shall be administered by the trustee under guarantee by the trusteeship of complete and independent operation of the company. The Coriscana company is also given the right to continue operation.

The penalty assessed is based on alleged violations of the anti-trust laws prior to 1909.

Today's action is the fourth time in six years that oil companies have been penalized in this State, but the first instance in which any of the companies sued have been permitted to continue in operation. Attorney General B. L. Looney, of Texas, commenting on the compromise today, said:

"The penalty for $500,000 together with safeguards placed about operation of Magnolia and Coriscana Petroleum companies, satisfies substantially the demands of the State. It seems to me that Prevention of combination in any lines of industry is of greater benefit to the State than could possibly be the assessment of large penalties after the violations of law had taken place. It is better for the State in the long run to prevent crime than to punish crime."

Testimony has been taken in several Texas cities before a special commissioner as preliminary to the trial of the suit at Greenville next Fall, and it had been planned to begin a hearing in New York August 15th. By testimony taken in Texas, the State endeavored to show that the Magnolia was practically controlled by Standard Oil interests tending to raise prices and destroy competition.

In reply the defense submitted evidence which they claimed showed that the Magnolia company had actually begun a campaign to enter the States to compete with Standard Oil companies.

Penalties of $8,150,000 each were asked against the Standard Oil of New York; Standard Oil of New Jersey; Coriscana Petroleum Company, John D. Archbold, John D. Rockefeller, L. C. Ledyard, Charles M. Pratt, Charles W. Harkness, H. C. Folger, Jr., all of New York, and C. N. Payne, of Titusville, Pa.; $1,775,000 each against W. C. Proctor, Coriscana, Texas; S. G. Baybe and Howard Bayne, of New York; O. C. Edwards, of Norwalk, Conn.; A. R. Waverly Smith and John Sealy, of Galveston, Texas; E. R. Brown, Coriscana, Texas; George C. Greer, and Courtenay Marshall, of Beaumont, Texas, and $1,000,000 against the Magnolia Petroleum Company.

Eight hundred thousand dollars additional was asked collectively against Edwards and Sealy as Magnolia trustees. Five New York financial institutions—the Columbia Knickerbocker Trust Company, the Central Trust Company, United States Mortgage & Loan Company, the Chase National Bank and the Seaboard National Bank—were made parties to the suit on the allegation that they held bond issues of either the Magnolia or Coriscana companies. A penalty of $1,800,000 was asked from Columbia Knickerbocker Trust Company and $271,500 against each of the four others.

No penalties were asked of the other defendants.

FAVOR WILSON'S NICARAGUA POLICY

ENFORCE MONROE DOCTRINE

Proposal Not Intended to Bind United States to Any Outstanding Debts of Central American Republic.

Washington, July 21.—Strong support has developed in the Senate for President Wilson's new policy of protection and supervision over Nicaragua. An informal poll of the Committee on Foreign Relations today indicated that the treaty proposed Saturday by Secretary Bryan will receive endorsement with a safe margin of votes and come into the Senate with the backing of influential members of both political parties.

It became known definitely today that the proposal does not bind the United States to any obligation for the outstanding debts of Nicaragua. The rehabilitation from the Republic's finances is expected to come about through the stability that would be given to future operations through the control to be exercised by the United States.

Nicaragua would agree to make no debts in excess of her current resources, however, and the United States would be given the right to intervene with troops at any time to insure Nicaraguan independence or to protect life and property. Nicaragua would agree to make no foreign treaties that would threaten her independence. The United States would pay Nicaragua $3,000,000 for an exclusive right to build a canal route and for a naval base in the Bay of Fonseca.

"The proposed control by the United States over the financial operations of Nicaragua is virtually an enforcement of the Monroe Doctrine in advance," said one member of the Senate Foreign Relations committee today.

Chairman Bacon, of the Foreign Relations committee, who was strongly opposed to the original Nicaragua treaty, said he believed the new proposal by Secretary Bryan greatly changed the situation and entitled the treaty to "the most careful consideration."

The proposed treaty will be attacked in some quarters on the ground that it would put a moral obligation on the United States to see the Nicaragua refunds and repays her old debts, even though the treaty does not make this country directly responsible for them.

Whatever the actual result may be the underlying purpose of the administration in framing the agreement with Nicaragua was to secure the concession for a canal route and the extension of the Platt amendment was merely an incident in the minds of the negotiators. This was developed in the course of the conference between the President and the White House correspondents today.

In the administrative view, the scope of the plan was not intended to be laid down as a general policy for all Central America, but the affairs of the little republics are to be dealt with separately as they may require attention.

The attitude of the administration, it was said, is one of extreme friendliness and there is no disposition to force upon them any such plan unless it is thoroughly acceptable.

Senator Lodge, Root, Hitchcock, O'Gorman, Stone, Smith, of Arizona; Sutherland Burton and other members of the Foreign Relations committee expressed, in varying degrees, their approval of the general principle advocated by the administration. Many of these Senators insisted, however, that the postponed plan would have to be worked out with great care, to insure the full independence and freedom of action of Nicaragua.

A sharp distinction was drawn today between the character of the financial support proposed for Honduras and Nicaragua under the Taft administration and the guarantee of financial stability that would be given under the Bryan plan. Senator Hitchcock, one of the strong opponents of the former Nicaraguan and Honduran treaties, said they had sought to bind the United States to enforce the collection of loans that were exorbitant and that would have bankrupted the country; while under the Bryan plan the United States would have the power to say at the outset whether the financial contracts of Nicaragua are fair and just.

In a statement expressing approval of the Bryan-Wilson policy, Senator Lodge said it would be an effective method of satisfying the world that the United States intended to enforce the Monroe Doctrine.

Pitching with consumate artistry, with the active cooperation of the boys at the swatting station, Walter Johnson and the Senators again petted the treacherous ursine foe of the Windy City into lamb-like docility in the second game of the series with the Chicago White Sox yesterday afternoon. Joe Boehling, the marvel of the season, equalled the season's American League pitching record by hanging up his tenth consecutive victory Sunday, and yesterday's victory made it two straights against the Chicagoans.

With only four hits to do business on, small inroads were made on the plate by the Sox, one tally in the fourth frame being their only argument in favor of a victory for the home team. The Senators now stand within one an a half games of second place, the Cleveland Naps being just 17 points ahead.

The Naps, after dropping Sunday's game to the Boston Red Sox by a two to one score, came back with Blanding and won easily in yesterday's contention on the home grounds. Blanding, though a little free with first station transportation, held the visitors to five hits, while Moseley was driven from the box and Hall who essayed to fill his boots, was very wild.

The ill-fated world champion losing aggregation, led by P. L. Chance, after winning Sunday's game from Detroit, performed such atrocities on the field yesterday, and the Tigers could do no other thing than accept with thanks their free-will offering. Willett, of the Tigers, held the Yanks to three hits.

The Athletics played the second game of their series with St. Louis yesterday afternoon.

John Jinx Defeated Chicago

Chicago, July 21.—Walter Johnson's pitching coupled with opportune hits and errors by Weaver and Russell, allowed Washington to win from Chicago today 2 to 1. Russell retired in favor of Benz who pitched a good game but gave way to Cicotte when a pinch hitter went in for him.

Washington	110	000	000—2 11 1
Chicago	000	100	000—1 4 5

Johnson and Ainsmith; Russell, Benz, Cicotte and Schalk, Easterly. Time 1:50. Umpires, Dineen and Egan.

Naps Came Back

Cleveland, July 21.—Cleveland easily defeated Boston 6 to 1 today. Blanding, though wild, held the visitors to five hits, while Cleveland drove Mosely from the box and Hall lacked control.

Cleveland	001	200	20x—6 11 1
Boston	000	100	000—1 5 1

Blanding and O'Neil; Mosely, Hall and Thomas. Time 2:00. Umpires, O'Loughlin and Hildebrand.

Slaughter of the Innocents

Detroit, July 21.—New York's fielding today was little short of atrocious and Detroit won easily 6 to 1. Willett held the visitors to three singles. Battery or fielding slips helpde the Tigers to all their runs. Willett got credit for an unusual assist when he deflected Wolters' hard liner, Bush catching the ball with one hand after a short, hard run.

New York	000	001	000—1 3 8
Detroit	030	102	00x—6 9 1

McConnell, Caldwell and Gossett, Smith; Willett and McKee. Time 2:10. Umpires, Connolly and Ferguson.

Athletics Go Marching On

St. Louis, July 21.—Philadelphia by bunching eight hits with a sacrifice in the sixth inning, won 11 to 8 from St. Louis today. In the sixth inning, after three runs had been scored off Weilman, Stone was sent in to take his place, but he failed to stop the slaughter.

Philadelphia	000	307	001—11 17 2
St. Louis	011	002	004— 8 13 1

Shawkey, Bush and Schang; Weilman, Stone and Alexander. Time 2:25. Umpires, Evans and Sheridan.

RECORDS SMASHED.

For Consecutive Bullseyes at Eight Hundred Yards.

Wakefield, Mass., July 21.—All records for consecutive bullseyes at 800 yards were broken today in the ninth annual meeting of the New England Military Riflemen's Association, when Captain Stuart W. Wise, of the Bay State team, made 103 perfect shots.

TURNED OVER TO MAYOR

Papers for Signature of City Official for Postoffice Park

Postmaster Green yesterday formally notified Mayor P. Q. Moore that the government had granted the request of the City Council for license to use the lawn back of the postoffice for a park and turned over to him the papers that must be signed by the Mayor in behalf of the city. It is expected that the municipality will be in possession of the property in a few days and then plans will be made for beautifying the lawn.

The public will be interested and pleased to learn that while there is a clause in the printed conditions upon which government property is loaned for municipalities or responsible organizations to the effect that no structures of any kind are to be erected thereon, yet there is a provision to the effect that whenever the Treasury Department sees fit this privilege may be granted. It is very important and necessary to the general scheme of improving the property that a sort of pavilion be erected in the center of the plat. There could be no possible objection to a light structure on the ground and without it there would always appear something lacking about the park, especially until the trees that will be planted grow up. It is believed that Postmaster Green will approve the application for permission to erect a light pavilion in the center of the lawn and with his approval there is little doubt but that the privilege would be granted. With his disapproval the city would stand but little chance of getting this concession from the government.

Justice Bornemann Officiated at Two Marriages Yesterday

Justice Bornemann, who is never more happy than when officiating at a marriage ceremony, yesterday had that pleasant duty thrust upon him twice. At 4 o'clock in his office Mr. A. Fornaseiro and Miss Mary Trevison were married, the pretty ring ceremony being used. Mr. Fornaseiro runs a store on Market street. Last night at 9 o'clock Mr. Nathaniel E. Brady, of Fort Caswell, and Miss Martha Millihan, of Progress, were married at Justice Bornemann's office. On both occasions the genial justice gave one of his splendid concerts which were greatly enjoyed.

A man who is too lazy to earn a living may get a marriage license and annex one.

CHICAGO STAR GOLFERS.

Took First Medal Score Honors in Elimination Round.

Chicago, July 21.—Chicago's star golfers took first medal score honors in the elimination round of the Western amateur championship tournament at the Homewood links today. A green as smooth as a billiard table upset the first of the 120 contestants and the scores were high.

Mason Phelps, Midlothian, former Western champion; Paul Hunter, Midlothian, and Warren K. Wood, Homewood, led the field with 77 each.

FINAL GAME GOES TO GIANTS

Made It Four of Six for Cardinal Series—Hans Lobert Won for Phillies—Dodgers Take Another—Cubs Also Won.

Exit from New York the St. Louis Cardinals, walking on one leg apiece the Giants having bombarded the other right off 'em. The Cards staggered throughout yesterday's game without much effort to offset the tide which was dead against them, although four pitchers were sent in to try to stop the league leaders, none of whom were effective. Yesterday's concluding game marked the fourth victory of the series which went the way of the Giants. Wiltse, the veteran New York left hander, was poorly supported, and Crandall, who relieved him, was effective at every stage.

The Philadelphia Nationals, by virtue of the all-star performance staged by Hans Lobert, won the concluding game of the series with the Cincinnati Reds, 3 to 1. Heinie made three safeties, including a home run and a triple in four trips to the plate, and scored two of the team's runs. Manager Joe Tinker was benched for disputing a decision.

The Dodgers, by the aid of errors of omission by the Pirates, turned an apparent 6 to 3 defeat into a 13 to 6 victory, when errors of two Pirates preceded Hendrix's loss of control, forcing two runs in, gave them the game. In the eighth two singles, a double and a home run with an error and a pass, counted five more runs. Ragon, who twirled the first part of the game, is credited with the game.

The Chicago Cubs, by congregating hits in three innings for dividends of a half dozen runs, evened up the series with the Boston Braves in the concluding game yesterday.

Giants Four Out of Six.

New York, July 21.—By defeating St. Louis today 8 to 4, New York made it four out of six for the series. Of four pitchers sent in to stop the league champions, only Doak showed ability. Wiltse, the veteran New York left-hander was poorly supported. Crandall relieved him and was very effective. Burns' hitting and running featured.

Harmon, Burk, Doak, Geyer and Wingo; Wiltse, Crandall and Meyers and Hartley; time 2:00; umpires O'Day and Emslie.

Hans Lobert Won.

Philadelphia, July 21.—Seaton's twirling backed up by splendid support defeated Cincinnati today 3 to 1. Lobert made three safeties, including a home run and a double in four times at bat and scored two of the home team's runs. Manager Tinker was benched for arguing.

Philadelphia	100	110	00x—3 9 1

Dodgers Eluded Defeat.

Brooklyn, July 21.—Errors of omission by Pittsburg in the seventh inning today helped Brooklyn turn an apparent 6 to 3 defeat into a 13 to 6 victory. Errors by Butler and Simon in the seventh preceded Hendrix's loss of control, forcing two runs with passes. Robinson went in and two hits off him sent in three runs. In the eighth two singles, a double and a home run with an error and a pass counted five more runs. Ragon is credited with the game.

Brooklyn	012	000	55x—13 15 2

Hendrix, Robinson, Cooper and Simon and Coleman; Ragon, Allen and O. Miller and Fischer; time 2:20; umpires Rigler and Byron.

Cubs Even Up.

Boston, July 21.—By bunching hits in the sixth, seventh and ninth innings, Chicago evened the series with Boston by winning today 6 to 2. After the sixth inning Overall's curves were a puzzle. Needham's two-base hit in the sixth inning started the run-making for Chicago and another double by him in the ninth added to the visitors' winning total.

Chicago	000	002	202—6 10 2
Boston	010	010	000—2 8 0

BROOKLYN MAKES PURCHASE.

Bought Schmutz, Star Twirler, From Northwestern League Club.

New York, July 21.—Officers of the Brooklyn baseball club today announced the purchase of Pitcher Schmutz from the Vancouver Club, of the Northwestern League. He will report in September. Schmutz's 1912 record was: Batting .109; fielding .957; pitching .425. He worked in 33 games for a total of 261 innings, winning 13 and losing 17 games.

WITH THE MOVIES

Big bills, scintillating with topliners, are among the score of things that make The Grand the pleasure headquarters for increasing hundreds. The other things include comfort, coolness, polite service and a tiny price of admission, 5 cents, afternoon and night. This afternoon and tonight the management offers a particularly bright and shining bill, glittering with gems of comedy, and pathos, mingled with interesting films of travel. The children and grown-ups, too, will be wonderfully pleased with "When Lillian Was Little Red Riding Hood," a big Selig production. The four other pictures include two Biographs, "Slippery Slim Repents," "Just Kids," "The Sway of Destiny," and "Shooting the Rapids in the Philippines." The Grand has just installed a new picture machine, Powers, latest improved 1913 model.

The Bijou Today

The Bijou today offers "The Gold Brick," a story of how a newspaper hit on a novel way to frame up a sensation but which ends up with everybody getting caught so that the paper is ashamed to print its big story after all. Kalem's "Turning Point" is the story of a lonely daughter of a prosperous farmer who advertises for a husband, gets an answer, is married: and trouble follows, but the ending is happy after all. There is also a Pathe play, "The Carrier Pigeon," very interesting; and an educational film, a nature study, "How a Blossom Opens," that is highly entertaining. Remember The Bijou is the cool spot and the little old price of 5 cents runs all the time. Special music, too, is always a feature.

Poisoned by Ice Cream

Members of the family of Deputy Sheriff A. L. Kelly and the family of his brother-in-law, Mr. A. H. Weadon, of Hope Mills, who are visiting at his home, eight all told, became violently ill Sunday night and for several hours they were in a bad way. They ate ice cream at the noonday meal and it is thought that their illness was due to poisoning from the cream. All those who were sick were able to be out yesterday, but were still feeling the effects of the attack. The cream was made at the home of Mr. Kelly and the members of the family are unable to determine what there could have been in it to have caused them to be so ill.

Baltimore, July 21.—Owing to the indisposition of Judge Duffy today the hearing on the petition of the United States Fidelity and Guaranty Company for another chemical examination of the viscera of the late Edward O. Blood is Purified Quickly in Summer

S. S. S. Makes Your Blood Corpuscles Unite for Mutual Protection.

Mingling with your food, arousing stomach action, absorbed immediately into your blood, the famous remedy known as S. S. S. has a wonderful action. Its main purpose is to stimulate cellular activity or that peculiar process which instantly changes the worn-out cells for the new red blood corpuscles.

The medicinal value of the components of S. S. S. is relatively just as vital to healthy blood as the nutriment obtained from grain, meat, fats, sugars or any other part of our daily food is to the natural reconstructive requirements of the tissues. And there is one component of S. S. S. which serves the active purpose of stimulating the cellular tissue to a healthy and judicious selection of its own essential nutriment. Thus, in cases of skin disease such as eczema, acne, herpes, tetter or psoriasis, first purify your blood with S. S. S. so it will enable the tissues to rebuild their cellular strength and regain their normal health.

S. S. S. is purely a botanical product, and you will make a great mistake to have some enthusiast palm off a mineral preparation that may do you irreparable harm.

S. S. S. is prepared by The Swift Specific Co., 191 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., and if you have any obstinate skin trouble, write to their Medical Department for free advice. It will be worth your while to do so.

OLD BONDS CAUSE CRITICISM

Treasurer Lacy Says Criticism of Report Inspired by His Opposition to Payment of Repudiated Claims.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., July 21.—State Treasurer B. R. Lacy brands as a spiteful attack on him because of his opposition to any sort of compromise of the old "repudiated bonds" claims against the State, the criticism of his annual reports by the New York Journal of Commerce recently widely published.

He says it is simply an attempt to injure the credit of the State on account of refusal to settle on any basis of compromise these bonds that are outstanding to the amount of $11,000,000.

He insists that his reports as to North Carolina finances are in line with those of the leading States and that they are ample. He believes, however, that the Journal of Commerce in some way got hold of an abbreviated annual report instead of the full biennial report that always carried the full statement of the State's assets and liabilities.

The Wall Street Journal pronounces the North Carolina treasurer's report as "simply puerile". That "in the days when politicians are proposing to manage the business of the country in all its departments of commerce, banking and industry, the astounding incompetency of their management of public affairs, as disclosed in this and other reports analyzed in this place, ought to be a warning to every thoughtful man. To show the assets and liabilities would be real progressive finance, such as is practiced by leading corporations. But North Carolina does not give even the most essential information in its report."

The same Wall Street Journal article attacks State financial reports generally, pronouncing that of Washington State as the worst and that of Wisconsin as the best.

Governor Craig having been counsel for the defense prior to becoming Governor, in the trial and conviction of Major Tweed, of Madison county, for second degree murder, a pardon just issued for Tweed is by the Council of State instead of the Governor. Tweed has served three of a seven year sentence. Secretary of State J. Bryan Grimes, State Auditor Wood, State Treasurer Lacy and State Superintendent Joyner passed on the application for pardon, Grimes voting against pardon and the other three for pardon. The claim is that there was little or no evidence to connect Major Tweed with the crime, the murder being really committed by Major's brother. The pardon is conditioned on good behavior.

A charter is issued for the Wagram Gin & Manufacturing Co., of Wagram, Scotland county, capital $25,000 authorized and $1,200 subscribed by G. F. Watson, Edward Shaw and others, of Scotland county, the company being empowered to do a general cotton ginning and textile manufacturing business.

Friends throughout the State will be glad to learn that Ed S. Abell, of Johnston county, prominent as a lawyer and in politics, is recovering nicely from a serious operation in Dr. McGuire's hospital, St. Luke's, Richmond, and hopes to be at his home in Smithfield again by August 1st.

Corporation Commissioners Travis and Lee and Clerk Maxwell will be at Old Point Comfort Tuesday to confer finally with the railroad traffic managers relative to working out a schedule of freight rate reductions to settle the contentions between the citizens of the State and the railroads. Commissioner Pell cannot go on account of having a son quite ill of typhoid fever. This conference follows the one last week in Governor Craig's office when it was found that the conferees were close to an agreement on a general 25 per cent reduction to apply especially to commodity rates in which shipments in this State are largest.

W. A. Myatt, Wake county's recognized expert cotton statistician, says there is every indication that of the 700,000 bales of cotton produced in this State last season only 50,000 bales will remain unsold when the 1913 cotton comes on the market. He says the cotton crop conditions hereabouts at this time are altogether discouraging and that similar conditions are reported in many of the other cotton growing counties and that it will take most favorable conditions from now on to overcome the handicaps thus far encountered by the growing crop, if there is to be anything like a normal yield. In this section there is an especial backwardness on the part of the growing plants to put out fruitage branches on which the bolls develop.

Brig. Gen. Carle Augustus Woodruff, retired artillery officer of the United States Army, died at his home in this city Sunday at 11:15 o'clock. He had been in quite feeble health for several months and his fatal illness was of several weeks duration.

General Woodruff was a son of the late Brig. Gen. I. C. Woodruff, of the United States Army, and was born at Buffalo, N. Y., August 8, 1841. He entered the army as second lieutenant of artillery October 22, 1861, and rose by successive promotions to the rank of brigadier general, which grade he held at the time of his retirement in 1903.

He served with distinction as an artillery officer in more than 50 battles during the War Between the States and was given three brevet promotions in the course of this conflict. Congress awarded him a medal of honor for bringing his guns from the field of battle at Mewby's Cross Roads after he had twice been directed to abandon the guns on the field and retire.

He was in command of the coast defenses of Boston at one time and in the early part of the Spanish-American War was detailed for service in Cuba.

In 1875, while stationed in Raleigh, Gen. Woodruff married Miss Effie H. Haywood, daughter of the late Dr. Richard B. Haywood, and claimed Raleigh as his legal home since that time. Immediately on his retirement he took up his residence in Raleigh and has resided here since. He has held various details from the War Department to the State Guard and always took a deep interest in this organization.

As a Mason he held the highest rank, being a 33rd degree Scottish Rite. He also filled the highest offices in the chapter and commandery. He was a communicant of Christ Episcopal church, this city, and presided over the State meeting of the Laymen's Forward Movement held in this city some time ago. He belonged to the Loyal Legion, Sons of the Revolution, the Society of the Army of the Potomac and the Medal of Honor Legion.

The funeral was held today at 11 o'clock from Christ's church.

In the course of a sermon at the Church of the Good Shepherd Sunday morning on "The Unjust Steward" Rev. Dr. I. McK. Pittinger, the rector, took occasion to declare the extravagance is one of the greatest evils of the age, the constant struggle of trying to outshine one's neighbors. Some one buys an automobile who is amply able to do so and then numbers of others in their circle strain far beyond their means in order to have a machine also. He decried similar evils in dress and pleaded for frugality even when one is blessed with plenty.

We call attention to an advertisement of Littleton College, which appears elsewhere in our columns. This institution has had a very successful career and has made a distinct contribution to the education of young women in this and adjoining States.

CUT HIS WAY TO LIBERTY

Randolph Gibson, Who Stole Goldsboro Man's Automobile, Filed Bars of Cell During Storm and Disappeared

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Goldsboro, N. C., July 21.—Randolph Gibson, the young white man from Rocky Mount, who purloined the automobile in this city last week belonging to J. W. Hales, and who was brought to this city and placed in a cell in the city hall, sawed his way to liberty Saturday night and it is thought left the city on an early morning train Sunday.

Before leaving his cell he wrote a short note, drawing a cross on same, saying the finder of the note would be lucky in the future if he would say a prayer and then kiss the cross.

Young Gibson's father had secured counsel in this city for his son and was going to do all that lay in his power to secure his release.

The police are today looking for a young man who purchased a file and saw from a local hardware store late Saturday afternoon, as the ones found in Gibson's cell answered the description of those sold to the above young man, whom it seems has too, left for parts unknown.

The main advantage young Gibson had in escaping from his cell so easily was due to the severe electrical, rain and wind storm that visited the city about 8 o'clock and lasting for several hours, putting the city in total darkness, so far as electricity was concerned. Live wires were seen playing unique pranks throughout the entire city, it being a miracle that no one was killed or seriously injured, so the current was cut off until Sunday morning when a few hours' work soon had the system again in good working order.

Farmers coming into the city this morning say that very little damage was done to crops, though they expected to suffer heavy losses.

The whole community was saddened at the news coming from Elkton, Va., Sunday morning announcing the death in that city of T. O. Kelley, of Goldsboro, who had stopped over in Virginia to visit friends and relatives on his return from attending the old soldiers' reunion at Gettysburg. He was liked here by all who knew him as he was the personification of courtesy and integrity in all his dealings, and enjoyed the unquestioning confidence of all who had dealings with him.

The remains will arrive here Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock where the funeral will be held from the train, conducted by Rev. G. T. Watkins, and the interment made in Willow Dale cemetery.

Including work now in progress and authorized, investments in Goldsboro during the past year have been $265,000 additional banking capital; $115,000 in 44 new residences; $100,000 in new business blocks; $150,000 in public buildings; $150,000 in public utilities; $100,000 in good roads, and $75,000 in manufactories. Under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce a movement was inaugurated for immigration into this section from the counties of Wiltshire and Hampshire, in England, of colonists of the agricultural and mechanic class, who are so well pleased with conditions here that they have reported back to friends in England advising them to come here and locate. The industries of Goldsboro are all prosperous and are running on full time.

SHOT AT POLICEMAN

Fayetteville Officer Target for Frank Wright, of Manchester

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Fayetteville, N. C., July 21.—Roundman Chas. A. Davis, of the local police force, narrowly escaped death at the hands of a drunken rowdy last night when Frank Wright, of Manchester, fired five times at the officer, peppering the wall against which he was standing. The trouble occurred at the S. & S. Cafe on Hay street near the A. C. L. passenger station, about 11:30 o'clock.

Wright, whose brother, Graham Wright, was arrested by Davis a few weeks ago for shooting on the street, was in the cafe when a couple of men in an automobile called to him to come and go home with them. Davis touched Wright on the shoulder as he came out and advised him to go with his friends. The Manchester man got in the car without displaying any resentment until the machine had gone about 100 yards, when he turned and drew a revolver, with the remark, "I'm not Graham."

A passenger train from Charleston had just arrived at the station, and Wright fired at Davis over the heads of a party of people whom a hackman was putting in his vehicle. The policeman was uninjured but the wall behind him bore evidence to the narrowness of his escape.

The men in the car rode down Hillsboro street and into the country. Wright has not yet been arrested.

An heroic deed by two small boys in the rescue of a smaller boy has just come to light here. The young heroes are Robert Irvin, the 8-year-old son of Robert E. Irvin, one of the proprietors of the Hotel LaFayette, and Emmett Underwood, Mayor John Underwood's son, also 8 years old, while the little boy whom they saved from probable drowning is John Anderson, the five-year-old son of John H. Anderson. The boys were wading McNeill's pond several days ago, when the little Anderson boy stepped into a hole much beyond his depth. The little fellow "paddled" with all his might, keeping himself afloat, while the older lads went to his rescue, and succeeded in drawing him from danger. All the youngsters acted with remarkable coolness, particularly the Irvin boy.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Washington, N. C., July 21.—News reached this city today of the death of Louis Phelps, of Roper, N. C., by drowning in Albemarle Sound. From what can be learned it seems that Phelps was a prisoner in the custody of Officer Chesson, of Washington county, who was bringing him back to North Carolina from Smithfield, Va., for jumping a court bond.

While crossing Albemarle Sound on the Norfolk Southern Railroad, Phelps induced the officer to remove his handcuffs for a few minutes and while the train was in the center of the long bridge, he strolled to the end of the car, made a dash for the platform and jumped over the rail into the water of the sound.

The train was immediately stopped and diligent search made for him, but in vain. It is surmised he was drowned as nothing has been heard of him since. The deceased was 28 years of age, married, and at one time a resident of this city.

Youthful, Wrinkleless Skin Easy to Have

(Biberta Reid in Woman's Tribune.)

You who desire to regain a youthful appearance will do well to make the acquaintance of the two simple, but valuable, prescriptions here given.

To make an effective wrinkle-remover, mix an ounce of powdered saxolite and a half-pint witch hazel. Bathe the face in the solution—immediately every wrinkle is affected. It acts wonderfully on sagging facial muscles, also, the lotion possessing remarkable astringent and tonic properties.

To get rid of an aged, faded, freckled or discolored complexion, buy an ounce of common mercolized wax at any drug store and apply nightly as you would cold cream, erasing this mornings with soap and water. This will slowly absorb the undesirable surface skin, revealing the younger, brighter, healthier skin underneath. I know of nothing to equal this treatment as a facial rejuvenator.

IS IT YOUR KIDNEYS?

Don't Mistake the Cause of Your Troubles—A Wilmington Citizen Gives a Valuable Hint.

Many people never suspect their kidneys. If suffering from a lame, weak or aching back they think that it is only a muscular weakness; when urinary trouble sets in they think it will soon correct itself. And so it is with all the other symptoms of kidney disorders. That is where danger often lies. You should realize that these troubles often lead to dropsy or Bright's disease. An effective remedy for weak or diseased kidneys is Doan's Kidney Pills. Read the experience of a resident of Wilmington, who has tested Doan's.

Miss Mattie Hodges, 609 E. Fifth St., Wilmington, N. C., says: "I recommend Doan's Kidney Pills just as strongly today as I did some years ago when I publicly told of my experience with them. Doan's Kidney Pills were procured from Bellamy's Drug Store and they gave me more relief from kidney trouble than any other medicine I had ever taken. I have since been well and my kidneys and back have not troubled me."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

THE PUBLIC SALE OF TIMBER

Heretofore Ordered to Take Place on June 24th Has Been Continued Until July 24th, as Stated Below:

By virtue of authority vested in us by resolutions of the stockholders and also Board of Directors of the Dill-Cramer-Truitt Corporation, we shall offer for sale at public auction on Thursday, July 24th, 1913, in front of the post office in Suffolk, Va., at 12 o'clock, noon, all the standing pine, cypress and other timber holdings of said company on 20,000 acres, more or less, of land in Onslow and Pender counties, in North Carolina, and fully described in deeds to said company, duly registered in the office of the Register of Deeds for said counties, a list of which said deeds may be had upon application to the undersigned.

The timber is conveniently located for shipment by either the Atlantic Coast Line R. R. or Norfolk Southern R. R.

At said sale no bid shall be accepted by the auctioneer unless the bidder deposit with the auctioneer a certified check on some reputable bank for the sum of $25,000.00, said check to be returned to the bidder if he should fail to become the purchaser of the property; otherwise, to be used as a credit on the purchase price.

Terms: One-third cash, one-third in six months, and one-third (the balance) in twelve months, with interest from date of sale and to be secured by deed of trust on the property, or other satisfactory security.

Any party or parties desiring more detailed information in reference to said timber can secure the same upon application of the officers of the company.

Clairvoyant and Psychic Palmist.

STRANGE POWERS

I was born with a remarkable power—a power not meant to gratify the idle curious, but to direct, advise and help those who are in trouble and suspense, concerning the every day affairs of life. MY WORK SPEAKS FOR ITSELF.

While I have the endorsements of hundreds of the most noted men and women of America, I deem them of little value, since I stand alone upon the merits of my work. Any person who can believe their own eyes and ears cannot help but know that my work is of the highest order of genuine clairvoyance.

If you have trouble or difficulties of any kind, come to me and have a quiet chat, confidentially. I will tell you what can be done. I assist you in all walks of life. Don't be despondent, worry or feel bad, when you only have to call.

Now, as a business adviser, I stand pre-eminent. I will tell you more about your own business than you know yourself. If you are not doing well, and want to do better, call.

If, at the end of the year, you are no better off than when it started, there is a cause for that. You don't want to trouble yourself in old age, and did not save anything, or could not. See me now, to prevent that horrible poverty.

You don't want to be single. Happy marriage and a pleasant home is what you want. I arrange that for you, speedily.

Have you domestic difficulties? Is your wife, husband or sweetheart untrue? Do others share the love that rightfully belongs to you? If so, don't hesitate. Call quick, before too late.

Are you seeking separation, divorce, or have you other legal troubles, or want to get advice on the subject? I am the person to consult.

If you speculate or invest, I can lead you to prosperity.

Have you had luck, or an evil influence over you? I remove that at once.

I advise you as to your future welfare, tell you what to do and what not to do. Many of my clients have gained fame and wealth through my guidance.

Entered as second-class matter at the postoffice at Wilmington, N. C., under Act of Congress, March 2nd, 1874.

FULL ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT

PUBLISHERS' ANNOUNCEMENT.

THE MORNING STAR, the oldest daily newspaper in North Carolina, is published daily except Monday, at $6 per year, $3 for six months; $1.50 for three months; 50 cents for one month, served by carriers in the city, or by mail.

THE SUNDAY STAR, by mail, one year, $1; six months, 50 cents; three months, 25 cents.

ADVERTISING RATES may be had on application, and advertisers may feel assured that through the columns of this paper they may reach all Wilmington, Eastern Carolina and contiguous territory in South Carolina.

Obituary sketches, cards of thanks, communications espousing the cause of a private enterprise or a political candidate, and like matter, will be charged at the rate of 10 cents per line to persons carrying a regular account, or, if paid cash in advance, a half rate will be allowed. Announcements of fairs, festivals, balls, hops, picnics, excursions, society meetings, political meetings, etc., will be charged under the same conditions, except so much thereof as may be of news value to readers of the paper, in the discretion of the editors.

TELEPHONES: Business Office, No. 31; Editorial and Local rooms, No 61. Call either, if the other doesn't answer.

COMMUNICATIONS, unless they contain important news, or discuss briefly and properly subjects of real interest, are not wanted; and if acceptable in every other way, they will invariably be rejected unless the real name of the author accompanies the same, not necessarily for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith.

ALL DRAFTS, checks, express money orders and postal money orders for the paper should be made payable, and all communications should be addressed to,

This is the day of the squealer.

A postoffice has charms to quiet the loudest kicker.

They continue to send murderers to the penitentiary.

Well, whether they like it or not, Mr. Bryan is on the chautauqua circuit, all right.

Mr. Hammer will probably get something just as good and Mr. Webb will be district attorney.

The Charlotte Observer calls it a "thaw", and its thermometer registered 94 1-2 in the editorial rooms.

If the Senate would remove the duty on cotton bagging in time for this year's cotton crop it wouldn't need to investigate the trust.

Says the Greensboro News: "We ought to be getting more fish yarns from the coast." Well, for one thing, it has been too dry this season.

It would take an iron clad affidavit these days for a prominent Tar Heel visiting Washington to prove that he wasn't there for ulterior purposes.

Blessed is the man who hath no dreams of public office, for he shall sleep untroubled and his waking hours will be attended by peace.

Once again Wilmington was the cool spot. Raleigh, Charlotte and Asheville all registered higher than the City by the Sea. Come down, all you fellows!

It is to be piously hoped that after the new tariff goes into effect there will be a prohibitive duty on the kind of poetry some of the papers are publishing as being worth while.

If the tariff as now proposed means Democratic disaster in 1916, why should the opposition be so upset about it? Their mourning garb is the best indication that we are on the right track.

Senator McCumber probably wears a plate and while he was gnashing his teeth over the doom of the Democratic party, he knew he could get another one if he gnashed one of them out.

It is probably bad taste for the Secretary of State to go out and lecture for revenue, but allowances must be made for a man whose taste has become vitiated by dalliance at the grape juice bowl.

One difference between Senator Overman and his first announced opponent is that where the Senator steers a diplomatic course the Guilford gentleman cuts right loose and says what he thinks regardless.

A Raleigh girl in Atlanta told a newspaper that Atlanta girls are not nearly so pretty as North Carolina girls. But it wasn't quite fair to say so when so many of the Atlanta ladies are away from home, at Wrightsville Beach.

The Concord Tribune may have it right, but in these days of political now-you-see-its and now-you-don'ts, it is rather risky to come right out flat-footed and declare that neither Mr. Justice nor any other man can dislodge Senator Overman.

Two deaths at grade crossings within a week because the victims lost their wits and stood still in the middle of the track. Grade crossings should be abolished, but people like that ought to keep away from the rails.

Being on the ground himself, Governor Craig has made no order about keeping an eye on the Tar Heel editors at Asheville. However, he has doubtless instructed them to watch any South Carolina penman who may drift in. Bad lot, those fellows.

The very numerous electrical disturbances this Summer have interrupted the service of the Southern Power Company a good many times. The Greensboro News tells of its difficulties, with power gone and lights off. We cross our fingers, but pause to say that, so far, Wilmington "juice" has been right on the job all the time this season.

THE NEW TARIFF IDEAL

In reporting the tariff bill to the Senate, the Finance committee declared it had sought to carry out and perfect the theory of establishing "a revenue-producing tariff upon the basis of competitive rates." This is the new Democratic ideal of the tariff. The old ones, "revenue only" and "free trade," as well as the "protection" of the Republicans are in the discard. It is very evident that after generations of development under the protective system, a free trade or tariff for revenue only policy would be ruinous. It would shut off the industries of the country too suddenly from their protracted debauch of special privilege.

Protection, in the beginning of development in the young republic, was necessary; but now, with highly developed and organized industry, it is no longer necessary. On the other hand, having reached the point where the domestic markets are fully supplied and a surplus to be disposed of, it becomes very urgent that foreign markets be found. A barrier that foreign competition cannot scale is a handicap, so the Democrats with a tariff based on competitive rates, remove the barrier, or lower it. American manufacturers have demonstrated their ability to meet foreign competition, and now that they are firmly entrenched, reaching mature growth, it is well for them that they be thrown into active competition. Further protection would be injurious to the industrial life of the Nation; it would stagnate. What it needs is the stimulation that will come through competition, and a staying of the tendency toward combination which will come through the operation of a tariff based on competitive rates.

The proposed tariff, very naturally does not reach perfection, but it is shaped with wisdom, for its ideal is sound. It would continue a measure of protection, yet allow competition, and at the same time take care of the interests of the consumer. The principle is sound; its working out will be difficult, but we have faith in the Wilson administration and in the Democratic party that causes us to believe that ultimate success will attend the latest efforts to establish a national policy under which the entire country will progress smoothly and prosperously.

No heed should be given to lamentations of tariff hogs, who foresee panic and disaster. They are very interested parties. Their idea of a tariff is one that taxes millions most grievously for the benefit of themselves, and they have enjoyed special privilege so long that they very naturally think the world is going to the devil when their graft is threatened. Present tightness in money is not due to proposed tariff legislation—it is world-wide. Europe is experiencing it, and certainly the prospect of being able to flood this country with its products—foretold by protectionists—would not create panicky conditions over there. The country is safe and sound, with the finest sort of crop prospects, and under a tariff based on competitive rates, a tariff that is intended to distribute a square deal all around, we foresee an era of substantial prosperity and national happiness.

The only injury to business that is possible is in delay in the passage of the tariff act, and a speedy passage is certain. The minority realizes that it is helpless, both because it is a minority and because it faces a carefully, cautiously prepared bill that presents a practically unassailable front. So far the speeches against it are nothing more than demagogical tirades framed more expressly for insertion in the Congressional Record for use in the campaign than for anything else. The Republican leaders have stated that they will make no organized fight. What the country wants is limited debate and swift enactment.

PARCEL POST EXTENSION.

That the parcel post has measured up to expectations and proved a successful experiment is indicated by the announcement of the Postmaster General that it is to be extended. Effective August 15th, the weight limit of 11 pounds is to be increased to 20 pounds, and a material reduction is to be made in rates.

The reduction will apply to the first and second zones, territory within a radius of 150 miles of any postoffice, but the step, we are given to understand, means that eventually the benefits of the system are to be universally extended and a general reduction in rates made.

Mr. Burleson foresees the time when practically all the small package transportation business will be handled by the postal service. He expects to see packages carried that reach 100 pounds in weight at rates lower than are now proposed. Under the new changes, the first zone is to include the territory within the local delivery of any office—city or rural delivery. The second zone is to be made up of the remains of the first zone and the present second zone, within a radius of 150 miles. The rate is changed for the first zone from five cents for the first pound and one cent for each additional pound, to five cents and one cent for each additional two pounds and the second zone rate will be five cents for the first and one cent for each additional pound. The changes are made because statistics show that one-third of the parcel post mail has been handled within the first and second zones, and they will benefit the producer, consumer and local merchant. Farmers will be enabled to transport their products directly to the consumer at cheap transportation cost. It means further reduction in the cost of living to the city man, and at the same time puts the local merchant in still closer touch with his customers.

With the C. O. D. feature, the abolition of the requirement of parcel post stamps, and these last changes, the parcel post offers a real blessing to the public—one the government ought to have bestowed years ago; and it is estimated that receipts will be increased to such an extent that at the end of the fiscal year the postal department will be able to show a surplus.

Live merchants and live farmers will watch the parcel post plan as a facile means of increasing their business.

AMENDING CONSTITUTIONS.

It is rather interesting to note that Rhode Island, also, is trying to remake her Constitution. North Carolina and Little Rhody were the last to accept the Constitution of the United States, North Carolina giving way only a little while before the Eastern Commonwealth. The latter's State Constitution contains a number of provisions that are out of date, but efforts to eliminate them and amend the fundamental law have had a hard road to travel because of the methods of amending. More than once a list of proposed amendments have met with defeat in the older States because the people were not prepared to accept features they considered bad in order to secure others that they approved, when they would have adopted those considered sound if they could have gotten at them. The fear expressed in this State by several during the sittings of the Constitutional Commission, that the propositions to be submitted to the Legislature and the people would be so cluttered up with unimportant matters that the essential changes would meet defeat, was well founded, in the light of the experiences of the older States of the East. The younger States get at their Constitutions with more facility. The biggest problem before North Carolina is that of taxation and court reform, and it is to be hoped that these will not be so encumbered by matters of less consequence that they will suffer defeat because of any animus directed at any other features of the new Constitution.

ADVERTISING THE PORT.

Port Wilmington appreciates the way the Charlotte Observer, the Greensboro Daily News, and the Raleigh News and Observer featured the story of Wilmington's importance as a port in their Sunday editions. The story, sent out by Secretary Branch of the Chamber of Commerce, carried the figures given in the annual report of Major Stickle, U. S. engineer in charge, which was published in The Star at the time.

The facts as given are published at a most opportune time, when the freight rate question has brought to the front the possibilities of the port as an asset to the whole of North Carolina, and are of great educational value. No doubt thousands of North Carolinians read with amazement the fact that the commerce of the port last year amounted to sixty million dollars. No doubt the statement gave many a business man pause and caused him to wonder if, after all, the shippers had better not investigate with a little more interest the opportunity Wilmington offers them to secure cheaper transportation. We have never had a doubt that the port would come into its own if North Carolinians once understood all about their gateway, and an advertisement like this is the means of disseminating that knowledge which is essential before the people of the State can be brought to a realization of the vital importance of their door to the ocean.

REFORM IN ASSESSMENT.

Virginia, like North Carolina, is witnessing the complete breaking down of its system of assessing property for taxation, and there, as here, the most important reform that is being urged is reform in property assessment. The Times-Dispatch says:

"Here, if anywhere, science is needed, for the assessment of property is a subject utterly beyond the ken of the average citizen. We should have experts prepare uniform rules for the determination of values and the assessment of improvements, with standard methods of computing deterioration; and until we have energy enough to do this we may expect every self-respecting community to chafe under the same yoke that galls Fredericksburg."

The Journal of Fredericksburg has been carrying on its editorial page from day to day a table of the unequal valuation of property in its city, and people there have opened their eyes in wide astonishment. Values vary, follow no fixed rule; one man may pay on $20 a front foot, his neighbor on $10. Publication of these inequalities, we have often thought, would be one of the best ways of bringing about reform. But the newspapers have fought shy of it. It requires a good deal of nerve, but we believe it would have a salutary effect and lend speed to the reform in our system of taxation that is so badly needed.

MR. JUSTICE SAYS THE WORD

No surprise was occasioned by the announcement of Mr. E. J. Justice that he would contest for the seat now occupied by Senator Overman. His candidacy has been a known fact for sometime, and only the formal statement was lacking. It is quietly worded. We are glad that no long campaign is intended. There would be even less excuse for a long-drawn-out and bitter contest than there was last year. Senator Overman has no spectacular stand on any question to defend against the attacks of any opponent, and Mr. Justice's views are well known. It will be merely a discussion by the gentlemen as to their relative abilities to serve the people. Mr. Glenn is liable to come into the race in the early Fall, and there is a hint that Chairman Webb, in case he fails to land the district attorneyship, may make a fourth candidate. At this time we can foresee no very exciting fight, and trust that the contest will be on a commendably high plane, and that all will have a perfectly square deal.

If the Dean considered a man who could double the size of the grass crop, worth more than all the race of politicians put together, he would probably have handed ex-Judge Spencer B. Adams a large one, for the former chief pie dispenser for the Republicans this year gathered 388 bushels and three pecks of perfectly good wheat from only 11 acres. Congrats to Spence.

Claims for about $20,000,000 have been filed against Lloyds' on account of losses at sea during the first six months of the year. An unusual number of wrecks occurred during that period, the total loss equalling the first six months of last year, counting the huge loss sustained in a lump when the Titanic was wrecked. Premiums on marine insurance are ruling higher.

Always ahead of the times, the Pennsylvania railroad is to abolish grade crossings. Some day the law will require it.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Parks are essential to the life of a city. They not only furnish places of recreation, but they contribute to the preservation of public health. The more evenly they are distributed through the various sections the better they serve their purpose. They should be within easy access of all residents, especially for the sake of small children who find in them a relief from the heat and danger of congested districts. The city which takes into account the necessity of parks in its building is amply repaid for the financial outlays involved by the health and pleasure they vouchsafe. The failure to do so can never be repaired without enormous expenditures. When a city is comparatively small the pressing need of parks is not so apparent, for there are generally vast stretches of open country within easy reach. But as the city grows this open country ever recedes, becoming more and more inaccessible year by year until finally it is beyond the time and means of poorer classes who usually live in the most congested districts. It is criminal not to prepare for such conditions which every sensible person understands will some day come to pass. If we consider it just to saddle posterity with debt for paving and bridge-building, how much more just is it to incur debt for parks. The paving will wear out and the bridges will crumble, but the parks will remain forever, a permanent asset, always rising in value with the growth and prosperity of the city. It is much better to provide a greatnumber of small parks evenly distributed through the various wards than to create greater ones which, of necessity, would not serve the poorer and harder worked people so advantageously. There should be no house within a city's limits more than five blocks from a small park. This would require that about one block in sixty should be preserved for that purpose, not an alarming proportion when you stop to think of it. Houston has passed the stage when this can be done in the older districts, but there is no reason why it should not be done in the newer ones. It is most important that the people of the city give this matter serious attention, for soon it will be too late.—Houston Chronicle.

The Farmer's Prosperity

During the past ten years the Farmers of the country have come into their own. They have grown somewhat larger crops by intensive methods, but the real reason of their prosperity is that they have handled their affairs more carefully and have become Business Men as well as Farmers.

A prime requisite in the proper handling of a Farmer's business is a checking account at the Bank. No merchant would try to conduct his business without a checking account, and no Farmer should try to do so.

MRS. MANGES ESCAPES OPERATION

How She Was Saved From Surgeon's Knife by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mogadore, Ohio.—"The first two years I was married I suffered so much from female troubles and bearing down pains that I could not stand on my feet long enough to do my work. The doctor said I would have to undergo an operation, but my husband wanted me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound first. I took three bottles and it made me well and strong and I avoided a dreadful operation. I now have two fine healthy children, and I cannot say too much about what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me."—Mrs. LEE MANGES, R. F. D. 10, Mogadore, Ohio.

Why will women take chances with an operation or drag out a sickly, half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has restored the health of thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, etc.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

PHI DELTA THETA FRATERN TY

Annual Convention Will be Held at Wrightsville Beach Wednesday and Thursday of This Week —Many Delegates

The annual State convention of the University of North Carolina chapter of the Phi Delta Theta Fraternity will be held at Wrightsville Beach Wednesday and Thursday of this week. The gathering will be a distinct feature of the season's social life at the resort. The convention will be attended by young men from all parts of this State and some will come from other States.

Among other attractions on the programme for the two days will be a banquet at the Seashore Hotel, a sail at sea, and a final dance Thursday night at Lumina. The mornings of the convention will be taken up with business sessions at which matters of interest to the chapter will be discussed.

Although the business sessions will be of importance to the members, the social functions will be the most predominate features of the convention. The college boys are expecting to be accompanied to the beach by their girl friends, sisters; and a number of the alumni will bring their wives. Class and college mates who have not seen each other in years will have an opportunity to pass anew the frat "grip." While the occasion of the convention will be a gathering together of the alumni and active members of the University chapter, a number of Phi Delts, as they are called in the college world, are expected to be in attendance from other colleges outside the State in which there are chapters of the fraternity.

The University chapter of Phi Delta Theta was established in 1885. The men who were granted the charter while students at the University more than a quarter of a century ago have long since passed out into the business activities of the State and nation. These men, 11 in number, were: Joel Hines, Richard S. Neal, William H. Carroll, A. C. Shaw, T. A. Marshall, R. S. White, W. H. McDonald, A. M. Simmons, O. D. Batheler, G. M. McKimmon and W. E. Headen. One feature of the convention will be the gathering together for the first time since they left college of those of the charter members who are still living.

Phi Delta Theta is one of the largest of the National Greek Letter fraternities. It was founded at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, in 1848. Benjamin Harrison, afterwards President of the United States, was one of the men instrumental in its founding. Among them have been one President, two Vice Presidents and several cabinet officers, Senators, Governors, college presidents and army and navy officers. In the present cabinet are two members of Phi Delta Theta: Attorney General McReynolds and Secretary of Agriculture Houston. Eugene Field, Ray Standard Baker and Grantland Rice are some of the fraternity's literary lights. The membership of the fraternity at present is over 18,000. The fraternity has 76 active chapters in the principal American colleges and two in Canada.

RUSS HAS TWO WIVES?

Married First Wife Six Years Ago—Lives at Abbottsburg

Chief of Police Williams received a letter Sunday from Mrs. Clara Russ, of Abbottsburg, stating that she was married six years ago to Malley T. Russ, the man who, it is said, married a young lady, Miss Lizzie Barber, of Lumberton, about a month ago and later brought her to Wilmington, where he deserted her.

Last Thursday Chief Williams received a message from T. C. Barber, of Lumberton, asking him to locate his daughter and send her home. She was found at a boarding house in Market alley and sent to Lumberton on the afternoon train.

It seems that after Russ married the Barber girl they came to Wilmington, and that later he went to Goldsboro. He wired her to come to Goldsboro but when she got there she found that he had already gone to Rocky Mount. She followed him there but on her arrival discovered that he had gone to Norfolk. She then returned to Wilmington and she remained here until sent for by her father.

In her letter Mrs. Russ states that she saw the account of the marriage of Russ to the Barber girl in The Star, and that she is confident that he is the same man whom she married six years ago in Bladen county. She says that his right name is Thomas Malachi Russ, and that there have been three children born to them, two of whom are living. For some time, she states, they have had to live with her father because of the desertion of her husband. Before her marriage she was a Miss Clara Smith.

ARRESTED IN NORFOLK

Negro Wanted in Wilmington Found In Virginia City Saturday

Deputy Sheriff E. C. Reynolds left last night for Norfolk, Va., in response to a message received yesterday by Chief of Police Williams from Norfolk's chief of police stating that a negro had been arrested there by the name o Charlie Jones, who made his escape from the county chain gang about four months ago. If he proves to be the same Charlie Jones who is wanted here he will be brought back by Deputy Sheriff Reynolds.

Jones, who is more widely known as Carrie Jones, is the negro who, while a trusty at the convict camp serving a sentence, came to Wilmington and got into a fight and was given an additional two years by the Recorder. At the time he made his escape he still had two years and eight months to serve.

Reported Attempted Suicide.

Report has been made to the police that Sunday morning about 10:30 o'clock a Mrs. Joe Burriss, an elderly white woman residing in the southern section of the city, attempted to commit suicide by throwing herself into the river at foot of Queen street. Harris Corbett, 14 years old, son of Mrs. W. H. Corbett, also residing in the southern part of the city, was in the vicinity at the time and grasped Mrs. Burriss in the water, calling two companions who prevented the evident attempt at drowning. Spectators say that the lad deserves much credit for his presence of mind and heroism upon the occasion.

REWARD FOR CRIMINALS

Believed That Some of the Alleged Murderers, Now at Large, May be Captured—Grand Jury Makes Report.

Failure of the county to offer suitable reward for the capture of criminals, is largely responsible for the fact that so many alleged murderers in this community are never arrested, in the opinoin of the grand jury for the special term of Superior Court, which body made report to the court yesterday morning. Investigation by the jury led to the conclusion that some of those now at large can be apprehended and brought to trial if reward is offered and it is recommended in the report that this be done.

The jury completed its work late Saturday afternoon, but as court had adjourned at that time the formal report was not made until yesterday. Mr. N. M. McEachern was foreman of the jury. Judge Rountree, after hearing the report, thanked the jury for its work. The report was short and follows:

"Hon. George Rountree, Judge Presiding Special Term Superior Court, New Hanover County.

"The grand jury begs to report that they have examined into and returned 23 true and three not true bills and four bills not acted on on account of witnesses, and have made five presentments.

"We have visited the jail and find it to be well kept and clean and in good condition. Questioned the prisoners and they say that they have plenty of good wholesome food and are well treated. We find the colored men's department much overcrowded. 18 men confined in three cells; size of cells 10 feet by 5 1-2, 7 feet high, which opens in a corridor or cage 9 by 18 feet, 7 high. We recommend they should have more room.

"We inspected the Court House and find it is in good repair, and were shown some steel fixtures that are to be placed in the Register of Deeds vault and the Clerk of the Court vault. We find that the toilet in the basement and the one in the brick house in the yard out of commission on account of being cut off from Jacobs Run sewer and at present no toilet for colored people. We think a place ought to be provided for them, and recommend same.

"We inspected the county home, and prison there and found the buildings in good repair and well kept. The lawn flowers and farm all seem to be well kept. The inmates seem to be contented and happy. We questioned them and they had no complaint to make; but praised the management.

"We inspected the cage at Castle Haynes and found it clean, plenty of good wholesome food. No complaint from the prisoners. We inspected cage on belt line near the Horne place. Find it clean, well kept, plenty of good wholesome food, well prepared, with no complaint from the prisoners.

"We inspected the convict camp and quarry at East Wilmington and find camp in good condition, and the prisoners appeared to be well cared for.

"There have been too many homicides in our county, and the murderers have been captured. We have examined the witneses in several homicide cases where the murderer has not been taken, and from the evidence before us we think the murderer could be brought to justice if rewards were offered for their capture.

"We strongly recommend that the County Commissioners offer a reward for each escaped murderer that they may be brought to justice.

"Having completed our duties we beg to be discharged.

"Respectfully,

"N. M. MCEACHERN, Foreman.
"E. T. HANCOCK, Secretary."

BALLOON ASCENSION TODAY

Aeronaut Johnny Mack Here With His Assistant Who Will Make Daily Trips Into Air at Wrightsville Beach.

The first balloon ascension by "Chubby" Cook, assistant of Aeronaut Johnny Mack, the well known balloonist, was made at Lumina, Wrightsville Beach, yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock, and was witnessed by a large number of spectators from the beach and from Wilmington, all of whom expressed themselves as being highly pleased with the exhibition. Many expressed the opinion that it was the best of its kind they had ever seen.

The aeronaut made the ascent from a point west of Lumina near Bank's Channel and went up into the air a distance of 6,000 feet before making the parachute drop. There were many who predicted that he would get a ducking but because of a lack of wind the balloon went nearly straight up, and the balloonist dropped at a point on the beach a short distance from where the ascension was made. He is prepared, however, and confidently expects to fall into the Atlantic some afternoon when there is sufficient wind to drive the balloon further away.

Aeronaut Johnny Mack stated last night that he considered the ascensions so perfectly safe that he invited any young lady from Wilmington or from the beach to make the trip with his assistant any afternoon this week. Every precaution has been taken, he said, and any young lady who wishes to make the trip may be assured that there is no possibility of her getting hurt from a fall. He stated that many young ladies have made the trip into the air at previous exhibitions given in other cities, and that he was expecting several Wilmington ladies to accept his invitation to make the trip while he is at Wrightsville Beach.

There will be a different feature given every afternoon this week. This afternoon there will be a double parachute drop which will be especially interesting. One parachute drop is usually as much as the ordinary balloonist cares to undertake, but this afternoon Chubby Cook will take two parachutes along and after dropping a part of the distance in one he will unfurl the other one and make the change to the latter, leaving the former behind.

The exhibitions will be given each afternoon at 5 o'clock unless it should be raining at that time. The ascensions, Mr. Mack states, can be made between showers and no matter how hard the wind blows this only makes the sailing more interesting. He declared that he would gladly have made the ascent Sunday when the wind was blowing at a rapid gait.

HOLLY WALKS FORTH FREE MAN

Jury Finds Him Not Guilty of the Charge of Burning the Rock Springs Hotel—Attends Moving Picture Show.

J. C. Holly, ex-preacher and former proprietor of the old Rock Springs Hotel, thrice tried for the murder of his ward, Edward Cromwell, who perished in the fire that gutted the hotel on the morning of August 10th, 1910, walked forth from the Court House at 9:30 o'clock last night, a free man, the Superior Court jury, after deliberating for three hours, having returned a verdict of not guilty of house burning to collect insurance on his household furniture, the State's last hope of holding Holly to account for the alleged happenings at the Rock Springs Hotel on the night of the fire.

Holly warmly thanked the members of the jury for their verdict. He did not show any signs of emotion, but seemed deeply appreciative of the verdict and also for what had been done for him by his counsel, C. D. Weeks and Wm. J. Bellamy, Esqs., who have won a great victory against great odds. The verdict was taken by Maj. W. N. Harriss, Clerk of Superior Court, who then told Holly that he was at liberty to go and come at will—that he was again a free man. Holly has spent three years and 11 days in the county jail and he rather likes the institution and the kind-hearted jailer, Mr. John M. Branch, and he said that he was in no hurry about finding new quarters. So after "taking in" a moving picture show with Jailer Branch he returned to the institution to spend the night. He will doubtless make arrangements today to take up his residence elsewhere in this city or in some other town.

He did not appear at all surprised at the outcome of the case. No one else seemed much surprised. Most people thought that the verdict would be not guilty, particularly in view of the acquittal on the more serious crime that was charged to him. Holly and other prisoners in the county jail from their cells watched the jurors in their deliberations in the room in the southeast corner of the Court House. They could tell the moment the decision was reached, and several prisoners stated that in their opinion the verdict would be not guilty. The jurors did not at first agree and the prisoners from their cells could tell that it took no little amount of argument to bring one or two of the jurors "over" to the view held by the majority. Holly very likely shared the view of some of the other prisoners in jail as to what the verdict would be for he appeared brighter than usual and talked very freely to those who gathered in the court room while waiting for the court officials and attorneys to come in.

The case went to the jury at 6:30 o'clock, but deliberations were not begun in earnest until after supper. Then it took only a short time for the jurors to reach a decision. The charge of Judge Rountree was remarked upon as having been a most able one, marked by its fairness to both sides.

The trial was begun Friday and most of the evidence of the State was in by Saturday noon, when court adjourned for the week, and very little testimony was offered yesterday.

The defense placed a number of witnesses on the stand, but their testimony was not lengthy. The defense took the position that the fire was accidental and originated from the explosion of a kerosene lamp or by rats biting matches. The presence of kerosene oil on the bed on which the body of Edward Cromwell, Holly's ward, was found, was due to the fact, the defense explained, that Holly saturated the bed clothing with kerosene to keep away mosquitoes. Holly himself did not take the stand. Among those who were called as witnesses for him were John Barnes, I. Tallman Robbins, Robert Minshue, John H. Davis, C. H. Keen, W. J. Meredith, a Mr. Harrelson and others. Most of these were character witnesses.

Since the courts have declared Holly innocent of any connection with the death of Cromwell, his ward, and with the burning of the hotel, very probably he will now put in a claim for the life insurance and the fire insurance. The insurance on the boy's life, made payable to Holly, was for $2,500, and Holly had $1,250 insurance on his household and kitchen furniture.

In the trial of Holly Solicitor Homer L. Lyon was assisted by Brooke G. Empie, Esq. C. D. Weeks and Wm. J. Bellamy, Esqs., appeared for the defendant. They were appointed by the court three years ago and they worked faithfully and hard for their client, winning when nearly everybody thought that there was absolutely no hope for the man who had been placed in their charge by the court. It was one of the biggest victories any two attorneys in the country ever won, and in this case much depended upon the ability of counsel.

Dr. Stiles Lectures.

Last night at the chautauqua pavilion on Red Cross street to a large audience of colored people, Dr. C. W. Stiles, in charge of the Marine Hospital, delivered a most instructive lecture on the "House Fly and Its Mission," which was heard with the greatest interest. The lecture was fully illustrated by means of pictures on canvas. He showed that the only mission that the fly has is to spread disease. On account of having to be in another part of the city, Dr. Nesbitt, county superintendent of health, did not make the lecture which was scheduled for him. Next Monday night Dr. Stiles will deliver another lecture to the colored people on "How to Exterminate the Tubercular Bacteria."

DON'T BE THIN.

No Need of Being Scrawny, Weak and Emaciated.

In these days of physical culture and health foods, one would hardly expect to see any thin, weak, emaciated people, but in spite of all this, nearly every person you meet is thin and scrawny.

Good healthy flesh can only be gained by the use of the proper food with thorough assimilation of the fat-giving elements. Nine people out of ten in order to weigh as much as they ought and be perfectly healthy, should use Samose, the great flesh-forming food. Weigh yourself before commencing to use these little tablets, and see how your weight increases.

Samose has valuable flesh-forming and tissue building properties, and when it is assimilated with the food, it causes the flesh-making elements to be retained and the weight is naturally increased.

J. Hicks Bunting Drug Co., the popular druggists, have sold in the last few weeks, a great many packages of Samose, every one with their personal guarantee to refund the money if it did not give satisfaction and has had but one person ask for the money back.

WOMAN BRUTALLY MURDERED

Penny Smith, Colored, Died Sunday From Injuries Inflicted by Joe Humphrey, Colored—Inquest Yesterday.

Penny Smith, a colored woman, who was horribly beaten over the head early Sunday morning in Strauss alley, by her paramour, Joe Humphrey, colored, as told in Sunday's Star, died Sunday night at the James Walker Memorial Hospital, where she was taken for treatment. An inquest was held yesterday afternoon and the verdict of the jury was that she died as a result of injuries and wounds received about the head and shoulder made by a knife and a skillet in the hands of Joe Humphrey.

Mr. M. H. Brimmer was named by the Clerk of Superior Court as special coroner to hold the inquest. The examination of the witnesses was held in the Recorder's court room. The following composed the jury: Mr. J. H. Burriss, foreman; Mr. W. E. Beaton, secretary; Messrs. Ed Taylor, Jordan Branch, S. Seigler, Jr., and Fred E. Arnold. Marsden Bellamy, Esq., county attorney, and County Solicitor Geo. L. Peschau, were present and assisted in the examination of witnesses.

Ella Beaman, colored, testified that she went with Penny Smith to a moving picture show Saturday night, and that after leaving her about 10 o'clock she did not see her again until about 2 o'clock Sunday morning when she heard her screams, and went over to her home to see what was the matter. As she approached the house she saw Joe Humphrey jump out of the window and that she (the witness) ran around the house and told him that the cops were after him.

She stated that he cursed her and ran away. She then returned and she and Laura Graham carried the Smith woman to the house of Laura Graham. Later she was taken to the hospital by the police officers. Laura Graham corroborated the testimony of the first witness. John Moore, colored, testified to certain statements that Humphrey had made early in the night to Moore's son. Humphrey, said the witness, stated that he expected to be in jail before morning. He is said to have told others that he was a "bad, bad nigger."

Joe Humphrey, the negro charged with the crime, had just been off the chain gang five days. He was sent to the roads to serve a sentence for beating this same woman with whom he had been living for some time as husband and wife. It is believed that he immediately set about getting revenge.

It is stated that both the man and woman came to Wilmington from Pollocksville, and that Humphrey had to leave there because of a charge of selling whiskey. There was a daughter about five years old who lived with the murdered woman and who was with her when the brutal deed was committed.

Not long after midnight Saturday Officers B. W. Jacobs and Frank George heard screams in Strauss' alley and immediately went to see what was the matter. They found the Smith woman lying on the flood bleeding profusely. They sent for the ambulance and carried her to the hospital. They together with other officers of the police department made a thorough search for the negro who escaped, but without success. He is described as a tall negro with very black skin and red eyes. Notices have been sent to all nearby towns, and it is hoped to capture him as soon as possible.

THE RECORDER'S COURT.

Three Months on Farm for Lillian McClain and Nancy Pickett.

Lillian McClain and Nancy Pickett, both colored, yesterday plead guilty before the Recorder to the larceny of some clothes last week and were given three months each on the county farm. Eliza McCarter and Hattie Henry, both colored, were each fined $5 and the costs for engaging in an affray. The McCarter woman was arrested on a warrant for assault on the Henry woman, but the Recorder after hearing the evidence ordered that both women be found guilty of taking part in an affray.

L. H. Davis, a white man, who runs a store at Second and Dawson streets, was fined $10 and the costs for striking a negro woman with a beer bottle. According to the evidence the woman came into the store of Davis Sunday and wished to purchase some lemons which Davis refused to sell her. The alleged assault was caused by the dispute which ensued.

The case against Alonzo Black, charged with the larceny of peaches Sunday, was continued until today. A number of cases for alleged violation of a city sanitary ordinance were continued until Thursday. Sentence was left open in the case against T. E. Andrews, charged with violating the dog ordinance.

In the absence of Recorder John Furlong, who was kept at home on account of illness, Justice Harriss presided over the court.

FUNERAL OF MISS HARDESTY.

Held Yesterday Afternoon at Residence of Dr. Chas. T. Harper.

A large concourse of sorrowing friends of the family attended the funeral yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock of Miss Grace Montague Hardesty, whose tragic death occurred Saturday at Carolina Beach. The services were held at the residence of Dr. and Mrs. Chas. T. Harper, No. 1 Church street, conducted by Rev. Dr. A. D. McClure, pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church. The interment was at Oakdale cemetery. There was a profusion of floral designs and tributes from the hands of loving friends.

The pall-bearers were Messrs. B. Frank King, Jr., Louis Hanson, Gayle Burkhead, Charles Hussey, H. B. Sedberry and James F. Gause, Jr.

Miss Hardesty was born in Colorado, but had lived in Baltimore for several years. She was 20 years of age and exceedingly popular. Her sad death is deeply deplored not only by the many friends which she had made during her short stay in Wilmington, but also by those elsewhere.

Trains Detoured Via Wilmington.

On account of a freight wreck at Baird, a few miles north of Fayetteville, about 11 o'clock yesterday morning, Atlantic Coast Line through trains 80 and 89 had to be detoured via Wilmington with a few hours delay. It was reported that spreading ralls was the cause of the wreck and the engine and 20 cars were derailed but no one was hurt. Some telegraph poles were knocked down and wire communication was cut off for the time being.

JUDGE BENNETT DEAD.

Distinguished Jurist Passed Away Yesterday at His Home.

Friends in Wilmington learned with deep regret yesterday morning of the death of Judge Risden Tyler Bennett, of Wadesboro, the distinguished jurist and philosopher, who was well known throughout the State. Relatives and friends of the family in this city received messages yesterday morning conveying to them the sad intelligence of his passing. The news was not unexpected for it was known that his condition, following a stroke of facial paralysis last week, was precarious. His daughter, Mrs. Eugene Little, of Wadesboro, was visiting at Wrightsville Beach, a guest of the Parsley Cottage, when she received a message last week, announcing that her father had been stricken by pa- Wrightsville Beach, a guest at the next train. Iredell Meares, Esq., is among the Wilmingtonians who expect to leave this morning for Wodesboro to attend the funeral services.

KILLED BY LIGHTNING.

Hoke County Man Struck While Asleep in Bed—Gin Burned.

Yesterday afternoon's Fayetteville Observer has the following: "Last night about 9:30 o'clock the residence of Mr. McFadyen, near Sandy Grove church, in Hoke county, was struck by lightning, and the bolt instantly killed Mr. Newton McFadyen, who was asleep in bed at the time. His hip and collar bone were both broken. Part of the house was badly wrecked. Strange to relate, Mr. Geo. Livingston, who was asleep in bed with Mr. McFadyen, was not hurt in the least. Lightning struck a cotton gin of Dr. J. F. Highsmith, at Roseboro Saturday night, and it was burned to the ground. The loss, $1,500, was covered by insurance."

DRIVEN OUT BY FIRE

Home of Mr. A. Vonsiller Badly Damaged by Fire Yesterday

The home of Mr. A. Vonsiller, No. 215 South Eighth street, caught fire at 5:30 o'clock yesterday morning, and the occupants had to flee for their lives in their night clothes. An alarm was turned in and the fire department responded promptly. It was a stubborn blaze and took hard work to get it under control. The firemen did fine work and finally succeeded in subduing the flames but not before the building had been gutted. The damage to the building is estimated at $450, but probably that much to the contents. It is supposed that the fire was caused by a short-circuited electric wire. The family of Mr. Vonsiller had a narrow escape as several were sleeping on the upper floor, and the fire started on the first floor thus cutting off their way of escape.

STILL ANOTHER BEACH

New Development Just South of Wilmington Beach

Following closely upon the announcement last week that a new beach to be known as Wilmington Beach immediately south of Carolina Beach, was to be developed came the announcement yesterday that still another new beach, name not yet selected, is to be opened just south and immediately adjoining the Wilmington Beach. The latest development is undertaken by Mr. J. Sig. Zulawsky and associates. An option was filed for record at the Court House yesterday from Capt. J. W. Harper to Mr. Zulawsky, on 164 acres of land, in Federal Point township, immediately south of Wilmington Beach development. This is the property that is to be developed by Mr. Zulawsky and associates. They will form a company within the next few days and before the option expires, 30 days from yesterday, they expect to secure deed for the property. It is their purpose to begin the development of the property immediately.

The property has a frontage of 1,600 feet on the ocean and runs back to the Cape Fear river. The owners of Carolina Beach and Wilmington Beach and those interested in the newest development appear to be working together in a way upon a definite plan, the idea being to develop that entire section down to what is known as the "point." Great improvements are to be made and a big advertising campaign is to be started and the promoters of the several propositions hope to dispose of hundreds of lots to people of the city and elsewhere.

Funeral of Mrs. Murrell.

The funeral of Mrs. Edna Jane Murrell, a sister of Mrs. Carolina Pickett, was held yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock from the residence, No. 605 South 14th street, conducted by Rev. Joe King. LOCAL DOTS.

—Lena Hawkins, colored, was given hearing before Justice Harriss yesterday on the charge of selling whiskey, the case being left open for judgment.

—By deed filed for record yesterday, Chas. C. Chadbourn and wife transfer to Myrtle B. Marshall, for $100 and other consideration, lot No. 2, Edgewood.

—Charged with selling whiskey, Annie Boney and Bell Williams, both colored, were arrested yesterday by Constable Davis on warrants from Justice Harriss' court. They gave bond for appearance at trial today.

—It was stated in Sunday's paper that the incinerator being erected in the northeastern section of the city for the city and county will cost between $35,000 and $40,000. This is a mistake. The contract price is only $34,600 and the few extras will not run the total above $35,000, probably a little under this amount.

—Mrs. Lena Jones and her husband, Buck Jones, were before Justice Harriss yesterday to answer charges of selling whiskey. The evidence in the case against Mrs. Jones was heard last week, but the case was left open until yesterday, when her husband was given preliminary hearing. Probable cause was found in both cases and in default of bond the defendants went to jail to await trial before the Recorder today.

FUNERAL OF MRS. SCHUTT

Good Woman Passed Away Sunday After Brief Illness

The funeral of Mrs. Wilhelmina Schutt, whose death occurred Sunday morning at 9:20 o'clock, was held at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon from the residence, No. 807 Bladen street, thence to St. Paul's Lutheran church, where the services were completed. Rev. F. B. Clausen, pastor of St. Paul's church, conducted the services, assisted by Rev. G. W. McClanahan, pastor of St. Matthew's Lutheran church, and there were present a large number of relatives and friends. The high esteem in which Mrs. Schutt was held by many friends was attested by the many beautiful floral designs. Following the services at the church the body was tenderly borne to Oakdale cemetery, where it was laid to rest.

Mrs. Schutt had been ill only a short time of typhoid fever. She was born in Faden, Hanover Province, Germany, and came to this country 40 years ago as the bride of the late Geo. L. Schutt. They came directly to Wilmington, where Mr. Schutt had already established his residence. She was 67 years old and is survived by one daughter, Miss Emma Schutt, and three sons, these being Messrs. George, Willie and Theodore Schutt, all of Wilmington. They have the tenderest sympathy of a great many friends in their bereavement. Mrs. Schutt was one of the charter members of St. Paul's Lutheran church and always took a live interest in the affairs of the church.

The pallbearers were: Honorary, Dr. E. J. Wood, Messrs. Martin Rathjen, W. G. A. Otersen, Geo. H. Heyer; active, Messrs. John C. Heyer, Joe Craig, E. P. H. Strunck, John G. Kuhlken, T. J. Little, Martin Schnibben.

TRIAL IN GERMAN

Justice Bornemann's Versatility Takes New Turn Yesterday

Justice Bornemann, the well known magistrate and notary public, had a new field in which to exercise his versatile mind yesterday when two Hungarians appeared before him to settle the payment of a debt which became due some months ago. Since neither one could speak a word of English intelligently it was necessary to conduct the trial in German which Justice Bornemann did. The oaths were administered, the evidence given and the verdict rendered in the German tongue.

Josephus Kosch sued Charles Magyar for a debt of $12.97 which he alleged the latter owed him. After hearing the evidence Justice Bornemann decided that the payment of $10.30 and the costs by the defendant would be the proper thing to do. This was agreed to and the case was settled on this basis.

Wrightsville Beach

Capt. Douglass T. Cronly, of Columbia, S. C., is spending a few days at the beach and is receiving a cordial reception from his many friends.

Mrs. Ella Wright Wilcox and Mrs. H. H. Wardlay, of Atlanta, who have been spending some time at the beach, returned home Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. A. Cobb and daughter, Miss Florence Cobb, of Royston, Ga., mother and sister, respectively, of Tyrus Cobb, the greatest baseball batter in the country, are spending several weeks at the Oceanic Hotel.

Among the guests registered at the Hanover Inn Sunday were Miss Mansie Clark and J. S. Clarke, Durant, Miss.; Russell and Clyde Council, Wananish; Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Carr, Kingstree, S. C.; Samuel Carr, St. Paul, Minn.

Among the arrivals at the Seashore Hotel yesterday were J. D. Whiteley and Miss Ruth Whiteley, Goldsboro; Mrs. H. K. White and Mrs. R. H. Hood, Birmingham, Ala.; Mrs. D. E. Harllee, Greensboro; Dr. and Mrs. A. L. Herring, Richmond, Va.

There will be another exhibition of fireworks at Lumina next Monday night. This display will be given from the Lumina wharf in the sound. The exhibition will be quite an elaborate one and will no doubt attract a large crowd to the beach.

Among the arrivals registered at the Oceanic Hotel Sunday were John M. McClelland, Atlanta; Misses Gordia and Estelle Grice, Shelby; Mr. and Mrs. William Walls, Wilson; W. W. Lord, Birmingham; Robert Frazier, Chester, S. C.; W. H. Jackson, Atlanta; O. W. Howard, Misses Lillian and Gertrude Reeves and Mr. Bascom Reeves, Parkersburg; Richard M. Bates, Norfolk, Va.

Yesterday afternoon's Fayetteville Observer: "Miss Hattie Owen has returned from Wrightsville Beach, where she has been spending several days with her cousins, the Misses Mitchell. ——Mr. W. A. Fry and family have returned from a sojourn at Wrightsville Beach. Mr. Frye says that Wrightsville is well patronized this year, and that the other day there were 900 bathers in the surf at one time."

Included in the guests registered Sunday at the Seashore Hotel were J. L. Lyerly and S. W. Coleridge, Sumter, S. C.; Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Sauls, Kenly; D. T. Simmons, Atlanta; H. S. Ledbetter, Rockingham; E. S. Lipscombe and M. Orr, Charlotte; Q. B. Dimick and family, Birmingham, Ala.; J. G. Hinson, Rockingham; Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Barnwell, H. G. Barnwell and J. D. Chandler, Atlanta; J. B. McElnany, Conyers, Ga.; J. E. Copeland, and W. J. Bozemor, Chattanooga, Tenn.; E. N. Maize, Columbia; G. W. Floyd and E. L. Anderson, Fair Bluff.

Tonight and every night this week there will be moving pictures at Lumina. The management has arranged for a regular film service and every night there will be three reels of first-class pictures displayed. Following is the bill for tonight: "Broncho Billy's Ward," a Western drama with that popular actor, G. M. Anderson, playing the part of Broncho Billy; a Vitagraph picture, "The Weapon," in which Maurice Costello and Rosemary Theby play the principal parts, and a Lubin comedy picture entitled "The Rest Cure."

Mr. Moore Pearson, son of Mrs. Frank Pearson, of Atlanta, Ga., gave a delightful sailing party to Shell Island Sunday in honor of a few invited guests. They went down in Capt. Wells' sharpie Virgie May, and after a pleasant morning spent swimming and bathing the party had lunch. The invited guests were Miss Erskin Jarnagin, Atlanta; Miss Emily Williams, Birmingham, Ala.; Misses Catherine and Mary Scott, St. Louis, Mo.; Edward Van Winkle, Charles Black and David Black and Misses Lena Swift and Polly Sherum, Atlanta. The chaperones were Mrs. Scott and Mrs. Pearson. Mr. Pearson left for Atlanta, Ga., yesterday.

Sunday's Charlotte Observer: "Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Thompson left yesterday for Wrightsville Beach to spend 10 days.——Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Lucas and children have returned home from a 10 days' visit to Mrs. Lucas' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Archibald Charles Craft, in Wilmington.——Mr. and Mrs. Thompson P. Moore and small daughter, Catherine Wade Moore, will leave tomorrow for Wrightsville Beach to spend 10 days.——Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Thompson are spending a week at Wrightsville.——Mr. and Mrs. McLaurin Jones have gone to Wrightsville Beach to spend a month.——Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Dellinger and son, Billy, are spending 10 days at Wrightsville, guests at the Oceanic.——Mr. Richard P. Harris is spending a few days with friends at Wrightsville."

Mrs. Frank Pearson, of Atlanta, Ga., appeared for the first time this season at Lumina Sunday afternoon and night, and met with a most enthusiastic reception from the large audiences which attended the concerts. Mrs. Pearson sang most effectively and each of her songs met hearty applause. Her programme number for the afternoon was "When I Lost You," after which she sank two encore numbers, "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine," and "Kentucky Eyes." At night she sang Ernest Ball's latest composition, "To Have, to Hold, to Love You." She was again encored and repeated the singing of the programme number of the afternoon, "When I Lost You," and also sang "Calcium Moon." Mrs. Pearson will sing again at Lumina next Sunday afternoon and night.

It is estimated that more than two and a half billion dollars are invested in the electrical supply stations in this country.

COTTON DEVELOPS HEAVINESS

Caused by Sudden Drop in Temperatures Over the Entire Belt and Heavy Showers in South Atlantic States

New York, July 21.—With a sudden drop in temperatures over the entire cotton belt on Sunday, and heavy showers in parts of the South Atlantic States, the cotton market developed moderate heaviness today, and closed steady at a net decline of 5 to 12 points.

The opening, which was steady, and 7 to 11 points, reflected in some degree the weakness at Liverpool, which at the hour of the local opening was about five to six points lower than due, having been influenced by the disappearance of high temperatures over the belt. Offerings were quite liberal and included a good deal of the cotton bought by local traders, at the close of last week of the hot weather scare. These were fairly well absorbed, however, and as there seemed to be some conflict of opinion in private advices from Texas as to the state of the crop there, new buying from Wall Street and Liverpool sources, relieved the market of pressure, and prices recovered about half of their early loss.

According to some authorities the Texas crop has been injured by the recent dry, hot weather, and fears are expressed that the heavy showers in sections of the Eastern belt, following so closely on the record breaking heat of last week, may cause some shedding. This gave encouragement to local bulls and the market acted quite steady throughout midday and up to the last half hour, when selling of October, credited to spot houses checked the improvement and produced a moderate setback. As freely predicted on saturday, the detailed weather reports showed a continuation of extraordinarily high temperatures in the Central and Eastern belts, up to the close of last week, but indicated a drop of 10 to 20 points in the maximums on Sunday.

Aside from scattered showers, however, there was no rain, and many private advices from the Western belt said the crop would suffer unless the dry spell was soon broken. It was admitted, nevertheless, that the dry weather had minimized the boll weevil damage, and some took the view that this more than offset up to the present time any drawback that may have occurred in Texas through drouth.

Spot cotton, quiet. Middling uplands, $2.40; do. gulf, 12.65. Sales, 1,300.

Cotton futures closed steady.

HOUSE PARTY AT INGOLD

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Ingold, N. C., July 21.—A delightful event of the Summer season was a house party given by the young people of Ingold to their visiting friends at White Lake, at the hospitable home of Mrs. Love, from the 14th to the 18th. Bathing, boating, fishing, card playing and dancing were the chief pleasures, and Cupid was in evidence with his little darts. There were many musicians in the party and their fine work added greatly to the pleasures of the week. The party was chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Johnson, of Ingold, and included a large number of young ladies and gentlemen.

MURDER AT GREENSBORO

One Negro Cuts Throat of Another—Caught and Jailed

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Greensboro, N. C., July 21.—Ed Clawson, alias Ed Dick, negro, is in jail charged with the murder of Jim Jeffreys, another negro, early Sunday morning in a notorious negro suburb of the city, while Arthur Clapp is held as an accessory before the fact. Both men will be tried at the September term of court.

The killing occurred about 3 o'clock Sunday morning at the home of Clawson's mother, where Jeffreys had gone with a negro woman. After staying in the room awhile with the woman, Jeffreys came out of the house, and under the influence of whiskey, began cursing and saying that the woman had "rolled him of $5." Arthur Clapp gave Clawson a knife and told him that as Jeffreys was cursing Clawson's mother he should go around and cut Jeffreys' throat. This Clawson did. Jeffreys was able to stagger down street a short ways, where he fell and died, just a short distance from his home and wife.

STOCKS RESUME UPWARD MOVE

Practically All Market Leaders Rose One to Two Points on Heavy Trading—Pertinent Developments

New York, July 21.—With periods of inactivity the stock market today resumed the upward movement inaugurated last week. Practically all market leaders rose 1 to 2 points on heavy trading in United States Steel, Union Pacific, Reading and Amalgamated. These stocks, as usual, comprised the bulk of the day's operations, but trading as a whole was broader than for several weeks. The notable exception to the upward movement was Wells-Fargo, which sold down to par, the lowest in twenty years.

News of the day was of the usual diversified character, including developments in the Balkans, which imparted firmness to London and Paris, while Berlin displayed nervousness of Turkey's reported intention to re-occupy Adrianople. London and the continent were buyers here, probably of 25,000 shares, principally Steel, Union Pacific and Amalgamated. Private advices from Rio de Janeiro pointed to extreme financial tension in Brazil.

Union Pacific's preliminary statement for 1912-13 was the outstanding feature. The estimated surplus shows earnings equivalent to 15.06 per cent. on the common stock, without including the fourth quarterly dividend on Southern Pacific, which would increase the surplus to 15.94 per cent. compared with 13.87 per cent. the previous year. B. and O. also submitted a creditable report for the same period.

Railroad tonnage in the Middle West was lighter last week, and further curtailment of business was reported. Many rates West and Southwest are quotably higher in contrast to local conditions where greater ease was shown.

Bonds were generally higher, with an increase of business. U. S. 2s and 4s and Panama 3s declined ¼ per cent. on call. Total sales, par value, aggregated $1,750,000. Total sales of stocks, 340,300 shares, including American Tobacco, 200; A. C. L., 100; C. and O., 2,600; Lehigh Valley, 5,500; L. and N., 400; N. and W., 2,100; Reading, 35,700; S. A. DON'TS ON RHEUMATISM

Rheumatism is stubborn as a mule. Hangs on like a leech, wears you out, worries you with pain, drags your vitality, depresses your mind and health. DON'T give up to it. DON'T let it hang on. DON'T overlook Foley Kidney Pills. They are a natural enemy to the conditions that cause rheumatism, which they will promptly remove.—R. R. Bellamy.

TRUSTEES' SALE.

Under and by virtue of the power conferred upon me in a deed of trust executed on the 13th day of June, 1911, by W. A. Simpkins and wife and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for New Hanover County in Book of Mortgages 64, page 427, and at the request of the holder of the note described in said deed of trust, I will, on Wednesday, the 20th day of August, 1913, at 12 o'clock, M., at the Court House door at Wilmington, North Carolina, sell for cash to the highest bidder the following described land:

First tract.—Beginning at the Southeast corner of a tract of land now in the possession of Mrs. Mills, on the North edge of the old Newbern road, and runs thence Eastwardly with the Northern edge of the said old Newbern road about 200 feet to the Southwestern corner of a tract of land now or lately in the possession of Mrs. Oldenbuttle, and thence with said Oldenbuttle's Western line North 3 deg. E. 2,000 feet to a stake; thence South 80 deg. W. about 200 feet to Mills' line; thence with Mills' line South 3 deg. W. to the beginning, containing 10 acres.

2nd. tract.—Beginning in the dividing line between Oldenbuttle's tract and the tract of D. N. Chadwick, the same being the Western line of a tract of land conveyed to Lilly M. R. Oldenbuttle by Steven W. Noble and wife, by deed dated the 27th of October, 1891, and registered in the office of the Register of Deeds of New Hanover County, in Book S, page 422 et seq., and corrected by deed dated the 3rd day of May, 1894, and recorded in Book 13, at pages 344 et seq., of the records of the Register of Deeds of New Hanover County, at a point where said dividing line is intersected by the Northern line of the right of way of the connecting line between the Wilmington & Newbern Railroad, and the Wilmington & Weldon Railroad, and the said points being 600 feet Northwardly from the old Newbern dirt road, and runs thence Northwardly with said dividing line about 1,500 feet to the Northern line of the said tract; thence Eastwardly with the said Northern line 209 feet to the Eastern line of said tract; thence Southwardly with the said Eastern line to the right of way of said railroad; thence Westwardly with said railroad to the beginning, the same being all that part of a tract of land conveyed to the said Lilly M. R. Oldenbuttle by Steven W. Noble and wife as aforesaid, which is now lying North of the said connecting line of railroads, both of which said deeds, for more certainty of description, are made a part hereof.

3rd tract.—Beginning at W. H. Mills' Northwest corner of the Hardwick tract, 200 feet Westwardly from the pine stump marking the old Hardwick line, and runs thence Northwardly 4 deg. 30 min. MINORITY LEADERS FIGHT TARIFF BILL

ence to sugar, wool, pig iron and textiles. He charged that the sugar industry of Hawaii and Porto Rico would be ruined, with consequent benefits to the so-called "trust," and that China, with its great steel plants, would capture the steel business of the eastern hemisphere.

Referring to the Walker tariff bill in 1850 on which he contended the present bill was largely modeled, Mr. Smoot said the Walker law provided for the admission free of only about 9 per cent of imports, while the Underwood-Simmons measure allows 55 per cent of the greatly increased volume of incoming trade to enter untaxed.

Under the Walker law, he added, the average rate of duty on all imports was 23.16, while under the proposed new law, the rate would be merely a trifle over 18 per cent.

"All the world knows how this country suffered as a result of the Wilson tariff law in 1896," he continued, but the average rate of duty now is over 2 per cent lower than was the case under the last Democratic tariff, when the business of the nation was paralyzed and 3,000,000 persons thrown out of employment."

Inconsistencies Charged.

Senator Smoot charged the Democrats with inconsistencies in the framing of the measure. Calling attention to the fact that wheat, flour, corn and cornmeal, potatoes and virtually every form of meats go on the free list, certain food products peculiar to the South remained under a tariff tax.

"Rice, peanuts and bananas, grown in the South," he charged, "are on the dutiable list. They are used by poor people generally. In Porto Rico rice is consumed to the extent of 100 pounds per capita. It can be used instead of corn and wheat. But corn, wheat, potatoes and other such products go on the free list, while rice is made dutiable."

The Senator then launched into a detailed comparison of the cost of production and the wages paid in the United States and abroad, and asserted the removal of duties was open invitation to foreigners to use the United States "as a dumping ground for their surplus products."

China and Japan, he said, with their ever increasing mills, would prove disastrous competitors in the home market, especially in the steel industry. He concluded by declaring that the question of the future will be that competition with the starvation wages of Asia, instead of with the low rates of Europe.

Senator Burton's Attack.

Denunciation of free trade as a timely policy for the United States, a prediction of failure in its purposes for the Underwood-Simmons tariff bill, and an attack on an ad valorem tariff system, were voiced by Senator Burton, of Ohio, in discussing the tariff measure.

Senator Burton declared he was no worshipper of protection as a "fetish", but that he approached the subject of the tariff "rather with the conviction that whenever there shall be an era of comity and mutual concession in trade among nations and our country shall have reached a point when its productive capacity has been fully developed, free trade might be a rational policy." Such, he said, was not the case, the disposition "to restrict trade among nations and to grant access to markets only on rendering concessions in return", being on the increase.

Free Trade Assailed.

Averring that a free trade policy only is applicable on the theory that it universally can be applied, the Ohio Senator declared:

"The attempt on the part of a free trade nation to apply the theory in practice without the concert of other nations reveals the serious disadvantage of such a position. Even if theoretically in the most correct situation, she is in far the worse position to enforce her point of view. She can have recourse to no other means of protecting her interests except to persuade the statesmen of other countries that they, together with herself, would be better off under a regime of freedom in commerce; while they, on the other hand, can bargain between themselves to her disadvantage, and at the same time profit by access to her open markets."

Senator Burton further declared that the Democrats had framed a bill which literally tears to pieces the fiscal policy of the nation, in order to satisfy the craving for lowering the cost of living, and to justify the declaration of their party platform that the chief cause of the high cost of living was "the existing protective tariff enacted by the Republican party."

"This," said Senator Burton, "was your campaign argument; this was the promise on which you regard yourselves as delegated to tear to pieces the fiscal policy which has been the sheet anchor of nearly two decades of unprecedented prosperity and which is the only guaranty of its continuance. You have erected a tariff policy blind to every consideration except the consumer. The bill was frankly not framed to encourage capital to enter new fields of industry or to extend those already established; it was not devised for the purpose of inviting our farmers to reclaim new acres for cultivation; it is certainly not calculated to enlarge the opportunities for labor to find profitable employment. Its sole justification is a reduced cost of living. If it fails in this, it fails utterly."

Many Persons Deluded.

The belief of many persons is a delusion, the Senator said, that protective tariff is responsible for the high cost of living.

Denouncing the ad valorem system adopted in the bill as a substitute for specific duties, Senator Burton declared that it was objectionable because it means a heavier burden upon the consumer during periods when prices are highest, and a smaller burden when prices are low; that it affords temptation for undervaluation and fraud, and that it works to the disadvantage of the American manufacturer who must buy raw material abroad.

LAD HAD NARROW ESCAPE.

Swinging from Box Car, He Overlooked a Telegraph Post.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., July 21.—Paul Scott, a clerk in a wholesale grocery, had a narrow escape from death yesterday when he was brushed from the side of a box car by a telegraph pole.

Scott, who is a lad not grown, was aiding in the unloading of freight at the warehouse of his concern, and was riding on the ladder of a car which was being shunted into the place. He was leaning out from the side, and was unaware of the pole, and when the moving train brought into contact with it he was hurled violently to the ground. His escape from falling under the wheels was miraculous. A physician examined him and found that his injuries, though painful, were not serious.

SENATORS ASSAIL THE MULHALL STORY

what the National Association of Manufacturers was going to do for Former Congressman James E. Watson, of Indiana, toward getting him a place in President Taft's cabinet and of how the association began work for a tariff commission. According to the letters Mulhall, Schwedtman and eventually President VanCleave and others high in the councils of the association, wanted Watson in the post of Secretary of Commerce and Labor, after he had been defeated for Governor of Indiana. In one letter Mulhall wrote:

"If Mr. Watson is selected for the appointment of Secretary of Commerce and Labor, he will be much more powerful in the cabinet of President Taft than he would be as Governor of the great State of Indiana." In another, he said: "If he (Mr. Watson) was Secretary of Commerce and Labor it would be to upbuild our splendid organization and would give us the greatest relief throughout the country that any manufacturer ever had in the history of the nation."

On January 25th, 1909, D. M. Parry, one-time president of the association, wrote to Mulhall:

"I would personally feel just as safe with Mr. Watson in that job (Secretary of Commerce and Labor) as for Mr. VanCleave or myself to have the chair."

The letters showed that Mulhall thought at least that Vice President Sherman, Speaker Cannon and many other prominent Republicans were interested in Watson and that he had eventually become a more or less open candidate.

"I believe that Mr. Watson was employed by the committee of 100 on the tariff commission, when it was created," Mulhall swore, "and paid a certain amount of money per week for his services while he was here in Washington for that commission.

"I know at that meeting here this arrangement was made, they set a price on Mr. Watson of $500 for a retainer. Mr. Emery set that price by applying to Mr. Kirby and the rest, and $250 a week for Mr. Watson while he was here working in that work, and $10,000 if he got the bill through at the end of the campaign."

"Mr. Watson at that time was not a member of Congress?" suggested Senator Reed.

"Yes. He was a member of Congress."

A long "black list" of Congressmen, both Republican and Democratic, who had incurred the enmity of the National Association of Manufacturers and who were to be opposed by that organization when they came up for re-election, was laid before the Senate Lobby committee today by Mulhall.

William Hughes, Sixth New Jersey; William B. Wilson, 15th Pennsylvania; Thomas Nichols, Tenth Pennsylvania; George A. Pearre, Sixth Maryland, and John L. Burnett, Seventh Alabama, were named by Mulhall as being "on the permanent black list" of the organization.

"Why were they on the black list?" asked Senator Reed.

"Because they were always in favor of labor legislation."

"Against all these men we made every effort to drive them from 'public life.'"

Another list, Irvine L. Lenroot and Henry A. Cooper, of Wisconsin; Augustus P. Gardner, Massachusetts; Herbert Parsons, William S. Greene, Massachusetts; Victor Murdock, Kansas; James T. McDermott, Illinois; Champ Clark, Missouri, and Gilbert N. Hauden, of Iowa, were described as "Cannon's list," and were in disfavor with the organization, Mulhall swore, because of their opposition to Speaker Cannon.

On another list were Morse and Nelson, Wilsoncin; Harry L. Maynard, of Virginia, and Loudenslager, of New Jersey.

Mulhall swore that the names had been furnished by Congressman Watson, or by "Mr. Childs," a clerk to the House committee of war claims in 1910.

November 2nd, 1908, two days before election, Mulhall wrote Swedtman:

"Following is a list of Congressmen I would advise having Mr. VanCleave send telegrams to, whom I feel sure will be elected and would have been our friends in the past. The list included Sherman, Cannon, Burleigh, Dalzell, Denby, Dwight, Fairchild, Fassett, Fordney, Hepburn, Keifer, Longworth, McKinley, Malby, Mann, Moon, Moore, Parsons, Payne and Rainey, and about 40 others.

LOSS WOULD RESULT

From Adoption of Proposed Plan to Exterminate Boll Weevil

Washington, July 21.—Federal experts estimate that a loss of almost $108,000,000 a year to cotton growers in Alabama, Georgia, Tennessee and Florida would result from the adoption of the plan proposed recently by Senator Smith, of South Carolina, which contemplated the establishment of a belt in which the growth of cotton should be prohibited by law, in an effort to keep the cotton boll weevil from spreading eastward into the Atlantic Coast States.

This conclusion has been reached by the Department of Agriculture, based on provisions for the elimination of a strip about 100 miles wide down through Tennessee, Alabama, Georgia and Florida. No figures were prepared to show how this loss of $108,000,000 annually might be offset, either in part or in full, by the raising of other crops.

ITCHING HUMORS.

There is Now a Way to Escape These Skin Torments.

Try This Remedy at Our Risk.

People sometimes say, "Well, that new remedy of yours, Saxo Salve, may cure recent cases of eczema, but I doubt if it will help me for I have had eczema a long time."

The fact is, Saxo Salve was devised as much for chronic skin troubles as for acute cases, and it is equally effective, though usually the chronic cases are more stubborn.

Numbers of cases right around here could be cited, showing that Saxo Salve is exactly the remarkable soothing and curative remedy for skin diseases that we claim.

The itching is stopped in a few moments after the first application, and improvement is seen in a few days.

All humors and disorders of the skin, whether scaly, crusted or in the very first stages, usually yield to Saxo Salve promptly. If it does not, in your case your money will be returned. Robt. R. Bellamy, Druggist, Wilmington, N. C.

OCCUPY NEW HOME TODAY.

Atlantic Trust & Banking Company Move Into New Quarters.

The Atlantic Trust & Banking Company has moved into its handsome new building at the northeast corner of Front and Market streets and will today transact business from its new quarters which have been fitted up in elaborate style. The formal opening of the building will not take place for a week or ten days yet in order that the finishing touches may be placed on the interior.

The first floor of the building will be used as the home of the banking corporation. This has been beautifully decorated and fitted up with handsome furnishings which will compare most favorably with those of any bank in the State. It has been provided with large vaults and with all the latest fixtures of a modern bank.

The upper stories of the building will be used as offices and already a large number of these have been rented. They have been provided with all the latest conveniences and will make ideal offices in every respect.

This is Wilmington's highest building and as such has attracted much attention. The outside as well as the interior has been most artistically decorated so that the whole presents a beautiful appearance. The removal of the Atlantic Trust & Banking Company to its new home marks an epoch in the life of this financial institution, and its many friends congratulate the officials on the completion of this modern high class building.

CAPT. DEVERAUX HERE.

Making Inspection of Public Buildings of Wilmington.

Capt. John A. Deveraux, of Charleston, S. C., superintendent of public buildings for the government, arrived in the city yesterday for the purpose of making inspection of the public buildings heer. He will be here for several days and will then go to Columbia, S. C., and other Southern cities. He stopped over at Southport on his way up, and stated yesterday that the quarantine house there is being enlarged on account of the great growth of the port of Wilmington.

He went over the postoffice building with Postmaster Green, and will recommend that certain changes be made in the interior, so that the clerks can have more room in which to work. It is expected at an early date to provide an extra window on the north side of the corridor, which will be used for the parcel post business.

The Marine Hospital will also be repainted and some steps will probably be taken at an early date for seeing that better sidewalk facilities for reaching the hospital are provided.

Capt. Deveraux also inspected the custom house here with a view to making certain necessary improvements, so that it will serve the use of the government until the new custom house is built.

Capt. Deveraux is one of the government's most faithful servants, and has many friends here who are always glad to welcome him to Wilmington.

BREAKS INTO STORE

Thief Stole Suit Case Full of Goods Sunday Night

A nervy thief broke into the store of Southerland & Weaver, merchant tailors, at No. 121 Princess street, Sunday night and took a suit case full of shirts, ties, hose and other articles. The thief made his way into the building through the narrow passage which intervenes between this and the building located in the rear on the north side. The passage is only about 18 inches wide.

Mr. Charles S. Southerland, the manager, was in the store about 11 o'clock Sunday night, and no one had been in the store up until that time. The thief got his suit case which had been loft in the store and filled it with various articles of gentlemen's wearing apparel. There is no clue as to who committed the deed.

Local Custom House Situation

ANYTHING TO BENEFIT SELF

In view of the continued efforts to throw B. F. Keith out of office and place in his stead some other man who will aid in cornering the money market, we have to say:

A certain institution in this city has for a number of years past been dictating who shall and who shall not be in office, now that they are gradually losing out, the method of petition is being employed along with stabs in the back, as it were.

Why is such an effort being made to throw B. F. Keith out of office? Because the time for the erection of the new Custom House is fast approaching and nearly $600,000 will be placed in Wilmington for the purpose. A certain bank would like to have Colonel Walker Taylor as the collector, because they feel assured, if the funds are placed in Wilmington and he is collector the money will be deposited with them. Now, why does Mr. Taylor wish the position? It is presumed in order to add more revenue to his pocket, the banking institution which is behind him; also more prestige to the man who is alleged to be at the head of the "So-called Insurance Trust" of North Carolina.

Another thing that we do not understand is why these men are so eager to have the scalp of a Republican, when it is said that they voted for Taft four years ago and some, no doubt, did the same thing in the last election.

Do they think they can fool the President and all the others in Washington, or are they egotistical enough to believe because of some success in the past that they can do anything? They should recall the most recent setback, the matter of the postmastership.

Mr. Keith has been charged with this and that, but they have failed to prove anything. Now, further, they should remember "that whatsoever you sow, that shall ye reap." Mr. Keith has until March, 1915, to serve and as it is possible the Republicans may again go into power if the present methods are continued, the same kind of treatment may be given you.

Now, genelemen, throw off this cloak of many colors, and treat our Republican brethren as you would have them treat you, and discontinue carrying to Washington the poisonous venom which would arrogate unto itself the sole privilege to destroy one's character for the benefit of self.—

If You Would Be Prosperous —Do This

Nobody ever attained a competence by spending all they earned. Your prosperity begins the minute you open a Savings Account. Even the smallest savings have often been the means of grasping opportunities that lead to wealth.

ONE DOLLAR—If you can't spare more—opens an account at this bank. You get 4 per cent. interest. You can add a small amount to your account each week or month and in a very short-time you will have a good stubstantial bank account.

Guide your footsteps to this bank, this very day—for your own sake.

Ford
THE UNIVERSAL CAR

Wherever the strain is greatest there the Ford is doubly fortified—with Vanadium steel. And there is more Vanadium used in Ford, than in any other automobile construction. That's the reason the Ford is strongest — lightest— and most durable.

Here's the test: 300,000 Fords now in service. Runabouts $525; Touring Car $600; Town Car $800—f. o. b. Detroit, with all equipment. Get catalogue and all particulars from Ford Auto Company, Eighth and Princess street, Wilmington, N. C.

Gentlemen:

Referring to your invoice of Feb. 28th, Auto Oil. We have tried other oil here but that gave more universal satisfaction, and we would ask that you ship us a thirty gallon barrel of this same kind of oil for our auto and truck.

Yours truly,
The Coca Cola Bottling Co.

The Growth of Permanent Teeth

is a more important consideration than many people will realize. If you wish an even set of teeth, a little attention in their early growth, will build an attractive set of teeth.

It requires a long continuous effort, for nature to build a set of teeth which must last for life. It is worth your effort to have a systematic habit of giving them several minutes of care daily. To keep them free from decay, is the secret of teeth that create delight from year to year.

One reason my operations do more than their intended purpose—patients become aroused to give teeth more thoughtful care.

Your call today is your profit.
